By W. L. Beale Jr.

QUEBEC, Sept. 16.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill pledged today a devastating assault on Japan, with all the resources of their two mighty nations, as soon as Europe is out from under "the corroding heel of Nazism."

The American chief executive and his British partner closed out today their second Quebec war conference at a new conference at which they said they had reached quick and complete unanimity on plans for bending Japan into submission.

Mr. Roosevelt asserted that he and the prime minister were not yet ready to put a specific date on the downfall of the enemy in Europe, but when it comes, he said, the Allies will do the fastest possible job on Japan.

The British empire, Mr. Roosevelt asserted, is, of course, looking forward to participation.

And Churchill, himself, formally pledged that the armies, air forces, and naval power of his tremendous empire would be thrown into an offensive against the Pacific foe when the fighting in Germany is over.

The two United Nations leaders sat side by side in pink upholstered chairs on the wooded terrace of Quebec's ancient citadel, and in turn told the press of their deliberations.

They wore blue bow ties that were almost twins.

Churchill had his ever-present cigar spearing from a corner of his mouth and Mr. Roosevelt puffed on a cigarette in an ivory holder.

Mrs. Churchill, wearing a double strand of pearls, a blue print dress, a topcoat in cape fashion and dark sun glasses, listened intently to the discussions.

ASOLINE DEALERS TO GET MORE FUEL

CLEVELAND, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Gasoline dealers will have more fuel to sell after October 1 under an Office of Price Administration plan permitting operators to recover gallonage through acceptance of counterfeited coupons prior to April 1, 1944.

OPA officials disclosed last night that James C. Rogers, deputy OPA director, confirmed reports that after October 1 dealers may recover gasoline allotted to their accounts prior to April 1, 1944, or the date of their first notice of the debiting plan, whichever is earlier. He explained the original system, which included bits to equal the amount of illegal gallonage turned in, was deemed "too harsh on the small dealer."

Shortly after gasoline rationing was instituted the OPA began charging dealers for counterfeit coupons they turned in, Rogers stated, allowing them a proportionately less amount of gasoline each month. This practice, he said, early drove some individual operators out of business.

He indicated the new plan would permit the OPA to "alleviate the sight of the honest and conscientious operator" while at the same time continuing to prosecute flagrant and vicious violators.

The new plan also includes a future tolerance of one per cent of total gallonage each month, to cover possible debits, or up to three per cent total gallonage in any one month, to cover subsequent month to cover those that might exceed the one per cent, Rogers said.

MOROTAI LANDING BELIEVED REHEARSAL FOR PHILIPPINES

By Murlin Spencer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Sunday, Sept. 17.—(AP)—Full speed consolidation of the American hold on Morotai Island continued without opposition today, while land and navy forces kept a wary eye on the island, 11 miles southward.

A headquarters spokesman said the Halmahera forces had sufficient barges to attempt reinforcement of the trapped Japanese garrison on Morotai, most of which have fled to the hills.

Such reinforcement was possible but not likely, because the Americans have full control of the air and sea.

Following their well-ried invasion pattern, the Yanks sent out patrols on Morotai in an attempt to contact the small Japanese forces remaining on the island. The landing Friday was unopposed, and frontline correspondents reported few evidences of invasion beaches. Enemy forces have given no indication whether they will attempt a counteroffensive against sizable American units.

Meanwhile, Yank engineers, who landed with the assault troops, continued their high-speed preparation of a Pitoe airdrome on Morotai's southern coast. # TELEGRAPH MEN MEET IN MONROE

Two-Day Sessions Held At Hotel Virginia; Those Attending

J. F. Wilson, district superintendent, Western Union Telegraph Company, Dallas, Tex., conducted a two-day meeting of the managers of Western Union offices in some of the larger cities of Arkansas and Louisiana at the Virginia Hotel in Monroe on September 7 and 8.

Those in attendance were: C. J. Debenport, division manager of terminal handlings, Dallas, Tex.; M. B. Eckert, division manager of methods and organization, Dallas, Tex.; Paul Horton, chief clerk of the district superintendent, Dallas; E. R. Dawson, manager, Monroe; Fletcher Ragland, manager, El Dorado, Ark.; N. E. Jones, manager, Fort Smith, Ark.; Milton E. Nobles, manager, Hot Springs, Ark.; Garland Baker, manager, Pine Bluff, Ark.; K. M. Partridge, manager, Alexandria, La.; M. H. Bice, assistant manager, Alexandria, La.; Hugh Allen, manager, Baton Rouge, La.; Mack D. Godbey, manager, DeRidder, La.; E. R. Dowell, manager, Lafayette, La.; T. R. Hines, manager, Lake Charles, La.; C. D. Ellis, manager, Leesville, La.

The first day of the meeting was devoted to a general discussion of the war-time problems of the written communications industry, and their solution. On the second day Messrs. Debenport and Eckert lectured and lead general discussions along the lines of the company's policy with respect to its functions in respective departments, emphasizing throughout that the uniformly good service the company has contrived to maintain even during the difficult months since our entry into the war must be continued and constantly improved.

"Today, as has been the case since Pearl Harbor," Mr. Wilson said, "the first concern of the telegraph company has been to utilize its skilled personnel and its vast network of wire communications facilities to the fullest possible extent in handling with speed and efficiency the great volume of war-essential traffic which has for many months kept its thousands of patriotic employees on their toes and its millions of miles of telegraph wires humming."

"We feel justified to take pride in the fact that the same high standards of service which prevailed prior to 1941 have been maintained to date, and in the commendations which have been directed to the company by the military for its all-out participation in the successful prosecution of the war. When the peace has been won it is our company's aim to still further improve and expand its services, and to serve our patrons in such a manner as to verify the many advantages to the general public of a unified telegraph system. In this aim we are hopeful of a minimum of the type of governmental regulation which serves only to shackle the industry in its efforts to render to the users of its services the greatest possible value for their communications dollar."

SGT. CRAWFORD MISSING

FISH FRY GIVEN PYTHIAN KNIGHTS

A surprise supper was served members of Stonewall Lodge No. 8, Knights of Pythias, Thursday night at their rooms, comprising a fish fry. Those who served the meal were A. J. Lester, L. J. Hunnicutt and Dan Frost. Co-workers were D. Curtis Seamon and Mike Tarver.

The fish were caught by Audrey L. Gresham, active lodge members, and Randolph L. Coats at Alabama landing in Union parish. A bounteous meal with all the trimmings was furnished.

Members are urged not to miss a meeting. The clubroom has been refurnished and there are domino games, billiard tables and the place is cooled off with fans and is always comfortable even in the hottest days, members assert.

Permission was granted September 14 to L. O. Wilkinson to make a two-story brick addition to a one-story garage at 309 Washington. The costs are not to exceed $3,500. Second hand lumber is to be used and the work will be by day labor.

AMERICAN LEGION TO INDUCT FIVE

The L. B. Faulk Post of the American Legion will hold the first meeting of September at the memorial home, Monday at 8 p. m. This meeting will be of importance as there are to be admitted into the membership of the post five men who have been recently honorably discharged from World War Two.

Also plans will be completed for the holding of the annual American Legion party at the post's home on the night of October 16. These parties are always well attended and are looked forward to as an outstanding event of the year in American Legion circles here.

SALVAGE CAMPAIGN TO BE CONDUCTED

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Salvage delinquents here will get a red tag hung on their front door knob if they should fail to heed the request of A. A. Dobyns, district salvage manager, who announced today that a second salvage campaign would begin next Tuesday.

The "double offense" tags will be placed at homes where no tin or paper is put out for collection and in cases where the tin and paper are not properly serviced, Dobyns said.

EXPLOSION VICTIMS NAMED

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The Ninth Naval District today identified nine persons listed as dead or missing after an explosion at the Hastings, Neb., naval ammunition depot yesterday. They included: Seaman 1/c Leslie Williams, Route 3 Box 23, Atmore, Ala.; Seaman 1/c Willie Williams, Atmore, Ala.; Seaman 2/c Frank Williams, East Main street, Lincoln, N. C.; Seaman 2/c Samuel Burns, Route 3, Box 65, Delhi, La.; Seaman 2/c Clarence Randolph, Route 1, Box 201, Bartow, Fla., all negroes.

Benjamin Franklin made no money from his inventions; he believed that they should be contributed to the public and refused patents.

MISS MINTON IS WAVE RECRUITER

Urges Young Women Available To Enlist In This Service

The navy recruiting station, Monroe, La., one of the leading stations in the state in the procurement of WAVES for the navy, announces the addition to its crew now stationed here, a WAVE recruiter. This is in the way of establishing a precedent, as this is the only station of its kind in the state where a WAVE is stationed on permanent duty with the exception of New Orleans and Shreveport. Since there has been such a great interest shown in WAVE recruiting in Monroe and surrounding territory the navy deemed it advisable to select Miss Hilda Elizabeth Minton, Sp (R) 2c, USNR for this important assignment.

Miss Minton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Minton of Laurel, Miss., enlisted in the WAVES March 15, 1943. She entered yeoman's school at the naval training center, Cedar Falls, Iowa, in April of the same year and graduated with the rating of yeoman, third class. On reporting for duty to office of naval officer, procurement, New Orleans, La., in June, 1943, Miss Minton was assigned to recruiting duty in the state of Mississippi. Since, she has been recruiting duty in Alabama, Florida, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Miss Minton is a graduate of George S. Gardner High School, Laurel, Miss., and Jones County Junior College, Ellisville, Miss. After completing her education, Miss Minton entered the employ of the Laurel Leader-Call, the leading newspaper of South Mississippi, and was assistant manager of an office supply house at the time she enlisted in the WAVES.

"Young women between 20 and 35 are urgently needed by the navy at the present time," Miss Minton stated, "to fill important shore jobs, so that men trained for the fleet may be relieved for duty for which they were trained." Miss Minton also said, "Information concerning the WAVES may be had by calling or writing the United States navy recruiting station, 303 Post Office building, Monroe, La., for appointment and free booklet."

TWO CHIEFS GIVEN HONORARY DEGREES

QUEBEC, Sept. 16.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill received honorary degrees of doctor of laws today from McGill University, Montreal.

Clad in crimson and white satin robes and pancake velvet hats, the two sat on the terrace of Quebec's Citadel under a hot mid-afternoon sun for the ceremonies, just before the two leaders held a news conference.

In presenting the president for his degree, Dr. F. Cyril James, principal and chancellor of McGill praised him as a "humanitarian." He said the president's courage had not faltered in the tragic hour when America's outposts were assailed and that he had gone on to help forge the weapons by which the United Nations are now marching to victory.

Mr. Roosevelt in response mentioned his long friendship with Canada's prime minister, Mackenzie King, dating back to undergraduate days at Harvard, and expressed his gratitude over the honor accorded him. James lauded the prime minister's steadfastness in Britain's dark hours and his "blazing faith."

Responding, Churchill referred warmly to President Roosevelt as "my august friend, my dear friend and war-time comrade," said it gave him added pleasure to accept the degree in Mr. Roosevelt's presence.

HENRY FORD WANTS TO RAISE WAGES

DETROIT, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Henry Ford said today in a statement made public by the Ford News Bureau that "I have been thinking and talking about raising wages for some time and I am going to do it as soon as the government will permit me."

The statement by the noted industrialist, whose factories employ about 160,000 persons in the United States, came shortly after Chairman William H. Davis of the War Labor Board said in Washington that a new national wage policy is "inevitable." The WL. B. it was indicated, would send direct implied recommendations to the White House that labor's wages be adjusted to meet increased living costs.

Twice before Ford has publicly announced a decision to increase wages in his factories. In 1914 he set a 5-a-day minimum wage, well above prevailing rates, and in 1929 he raised the minimum in Ford plants to $7.90 daily.

A Ford spokesman said the present average hourly rate was approximately $12.50. Ford has a contract with the United Automobile Workers (C. I. O.) which sets classifications, seniority rights and grievance procedure as provides for the establishment of wage scales through negotiation.

The huge Ford automobile factory are currently engaged almost exclusively in war production.

PRESIDENT OF L. S. U. HONORED

Buffet Supper Held By Alumni At Northeast Junior College

Former students and alumni of Louisiana State University gathered in the student center building of Northeast Junior College Friday, September 16, at 8:30 p. m. to honor Dr. W. B. Hatcher, new president of the university. The occasion took the form of a buffet supper planned under the direction of B. S. Hamner, chairman of the local alumni chapter, who presided at the meeting. Guests numbered about 130 comprised the group consisting of alumni of Ouachita and several adjoining parishes.

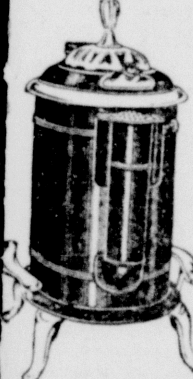

Presenting President Hatcher, Dr. C. Colvert, dean of the Northeast Junior College, emphasized the close relationship between the college here and the big campus at Baton Rouge. Northeast Junior College is an integral part of L. S. U., he said. The purpose of N. J. C. is to bring the students of the university closer to youth, he explained. He spoke of the pride which alumni could have in a university president who knows all phases of education and who has struggled so well with the people of Louisiana that he is aware of their needs. He referred to the rich experiences that President Hatcher had enjoyed as superintendent of education of East Baton Rouge parish, state director of N. Y. A. dean of John McNeese Junior College at Lake Charles and as dean of the junior division of L. S. U.

President Hatcher spoke of the necessity of alumni support if L. S. U. is to go forward. He also stressed the need of this support to the president of the institution. Through this cooperation the university can truly serve the people by giving training to youth, he said. He pointed out that the state school is a servant of the people, and that the people are stockholders in this corporation. "They select a board of supervisors to plan and put into effect theories which they think will work for the good of the people." The president of the university serves as an executive officer of the board, and it is his job to make recommendations to the board, he explained. "To do this wisely," President Hatcher said, "it is essential that this executive officer mingle with alumni so that he may obtain constructive suggestions regarding the improvement of L. S. U."

"The university must go forward to take its place in the constellation of American educational institutions," the president emphasized. He pointed to the fact that this work could not be accomplished in a day. He said, however, that most of the foundation was strong and that L. S. U. could go forward on much that has been constructed.

Considering the possibilities of growth of the university, President Hatcher placed stress upon the splendid opportunities which the institution had in the way of providing a substantial program for returning service men and women. These former students will call for adjustments when they come back, he said. It is up to L. S. U. to make adjustments that will benefit these persons, he emphasized. They will be at a great disadvantage if they are not prepared educationally to take their places in a post-war world, he explained. He asked that alumni bring to the attention of returning men and women the opportunities that the government has provided through the GI bill for financial assistance in education. Various colleges at L. S. U. are already making plans to train war veterans in many fields.

He referred to the opportunities that came with a college system that made provision for students to commute by bus. This often proved to be a great advantage of parents and young people attending college. In his estimation there is much to be gained by this system in preference to the use of dormitories.

Gov. James Davis, who was unable to attend, was represented by James I. Smith, executive counsel in the governor's office. He spoke of the close relationship which existed between the state department and the university, and he referred to the many ways in which the state had cooperated with L. S. U. in fields that helped the economic conditions of the people throughout Louisiana. Mr. Smith extended to President Hatcher, on behalf of the governor, complete cooperation of the executive department.

K. S. Thompson of Marion, member of the L. S. U. board of supervisors, expressed pleasure in the board's having been able to secure as president of the university a man who has worked for many years in this state and who has come to know the conditions and problems of its people so well.

T. K. McKnight, executive secretary of the L. S. U. Alumni Association, spoke of the interest that had been shown in the university by men and women who were serving overseas. He paid tribute to Capt. Harry (Red) Taylor, who held the position of executive secretary at the time he entered military service.

Several guests who were introduced at the meeting included: Mayor Harvey Benoit, City Commissioner Ruff Tidwell, and George McKnight of Winnsboro.

C. B. Sherrouse, member of the university board of supervisors from Gilbert, sent regrets that he could not attend. Others unable to be present included: William Rodriguez and C. C. Bell, state representatives from Ouachita parish, and state Senator John F. McCormick.

Mr. Hamner expressed appreciation to alumni of Ouachita and adjoining parishes for their cooperation and to committee members who assisted in preparations for the meeting.

An added feature in the evening's entertainment were musical numbers rendered before guests were served and as a part of the program while the buffet supper was enjoyed. Miss Beth Rinehart, an L. S. U. alumni gave two vocal numbers, "I'll See You Again" and "Indian Love Call." She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Ann Mallett, music major at the college here.

CHILD WELFARE MEET IS HELD

Successful Session Held In Hotel Frances; Miss Bonham Speaks

On Tuesday evening, September 12, the Child Welfare Council met at the Hotel Frances. G. S. Manning, president of the council, presided at this meeting. Mrs. D. M. Nicol, chairman of the social service committee, gave a report, stating that the response to the request made for clothing, play pens, and other articles for use in the child-care program in the community had been very good, and that there was the need still for more such articles.

Miss Jean Bonham gave a report of the excellent assistance which the Junior Charity League has given to the child-care program by providing financial assistance for the care of a child in a foster home. Mrs. A. N. Robinson, chairman of the program committee, gave a report on the programs which have been planned and stated that the next program would be on licensing for public institutions for child-care. C. M. Mitchell will be in charge of this program.

Miss Jean Bonham presented the speaker of the evening, Miss Dorothea Gilbert, director of the children's service bureau of Shreveport. Miss Gilbert gave a most interesting and informative talk on "The State Licensing Program As It Affects Child-Care Institutions." In her talk, Miss Gilbert discussed the relationships of the development of private agency specializing in child-care and the state licensing program and the steps which led to the development of such a licensing program of small private agencies; the beginning of the child-care program in Shreveport and its development from an orphanage and a training school for girls to the set-up of the present time; The Children's Home and the service bureau; how the licensing program has helped in clarifying needs, evaluating procedures, and raising and maintaining standards.

Nazis' Last Stand
There is little doubt that the Siegfried line which a half dozen Allied armies are now breaching is formidable. It has machine gun nests, tank traps, mortars, heavy artillery, mine fields and other defensive devices to delay advance. But so had the Atlantic wall and every other line the Nazis have attempted to hold.

As this war has proved, there is no defensive line unless the defenders have at least equal military resources. And the Nazis are fatally lacking in what it takes. Before the Siegfried line is completely reduced, the Allies will be driving toward Berlin in several parallel columns, and this Nazi defense will have been rendered useless.

The Americans and the British, after a brief pause for reorganization and coordination of supplies, are now bringing to bear upon the Nazis the greatest power they have ever felt either on the western or the eastern fronts. They have air dominance, a factor which alone would almost assure Germany's defeat. But they also have more tanks, more big and little guns, more combat troops, more mobility. And they are more able led.

The Germans, in trying to defend France, proved Hitler's purge of his generals was tragic for the Reich. Fundamental mistakes were made which have shortened the war immeasurably. A last stand by the Nazis could be prolonged by the courage of desperation. But when a war machine is outnumbered, outpowered and has no space left for retreat, there can be but one end.

The Allies are now moving toward the final culmination.

READY WITH RELIEF
The minute war ends the task of rehabilitating nations of Europe will get under way. With a budget of $2,000,000,000, buyers of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration have been in the markets for many weeks locating the things which will be needed to restore at least a semblance of normal conditions in wartorn countries. Their shopping list is long and interesting, including everything from cod liver oil to locomotives.

Purchases being made by the UNRRA are being duplicated in most cases by the war department. The army is responsible for bringing first aid to liberated peoples, the UNRRA moving in six months later after order has been restored and preliminary relief measures are well under way. The only exception to this plan may be the Balkans, where UNRRA missions, assembled at Cairo, may move in with the military.

There are two principal phases of European relief and restoration. One concerns the people themselves and has to do with food and clothing, with equal emphasis on medical attention. There will be immediately available such things as vitamins and similar products intended to restore the health of populations starved by war. Food supplies will be ample and varied.

Of equal importance will be restoration of industry, including utilities. Every effort will be made to enable liberated peoples to become self-sufficient in the shortest possible period of time. Facing a huge task, the UNRRA is losing no time in getting ready to meet it.

HOT RACE
Which big league baseball teams will play in the World Series is a matter which is not expected to turn upside down. With all ears attuned to developments in Europe and the Pacific, baseball as a paramount subject of discussion has temporarily been relegated to a poor second place.

But at the same time there is more than a modicum of interest in the outcome in the American League, where four teams are battling for the flag. For nearly 100 consecutive days during the present season the St. Louis Browns were out in the lead in that league.

The Browns in past years were generally at the bottom of the standings. They were the subject of jokes and jibes, and when they did win a game it was news. This year the picture changed, and until overtaken by New York the Browns were breezing along toward the pennant with great eclat.

Then came a slump, not uncommon in baseball, and New York put the Missouri Americans out of first place. They are not beaten, and baseball sharps say they have an odds-on chance to win the honor. In that event they will meet the St. Louis Cardinals in the playoff.

Whatever the outcome, the close finish in the American League is providing an interesting diversion for all fans.

PRISONERS OF JAPAN
Through efforts of the International Red Cross much has been learned of the condition of Americans now confined in Japanese prison camps. In a recent report, following visits to all the camps, it is stated they were found to be generally satisfactory. Overcrowded, cold in winter, and with food supplies lacking in fats and proteins, conditions were better than might have been expected, considering the general attitude of the Japanese toward Americans.

Medical service of a sort is available. Supplies sent by the Red Cross are delivered regularly. Reading matter is plentiful. By a recent order prisoners may receive $10 a month from relatives and friends. Work is voluntary, consisting largely of gardening and handling livestock. In some places it is reported prisoners were given a larger ration of food than was being received by Jap civilians.

In brief, American prisoners are getting enough food to sustain life, have plenty of water for drinking and bathing, are permitted to play games of all sorts, need not work unless they want to do so, and, above all, are not being mistreated or tortured.

It is a reassuring picture the Red Cross brings from Japan. Americans who prefer to be downright skeptical of the facts as reported have that right.

Jimmie Fidler IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 16.—The more I hear of his record in the service, the more I'm inclined to admire. Lew Ayres—the only Hollywood celebrity who refused to bear arms because of religious scruples. Mind you, I neither approve of, nor share, his viewpoint. I realize, as every practical man must, that had many Americans followed his examples, we would have fallen easy prey to Axis aggression.

It's the man's courage that excites my admiration, and that and his apparent unselfishness since donning a medical corps uniform. It took guts to say "My religion won't let me fight," when he knew that public scorn would be certain to brand him a coward and probably strip him of a career he had worked years to build. And it's taken courage of the highest order to serve on the front lines in a branch of the service that can't fight back.

I admire him because he voluntarily took a reduction in rank in order to be eligible for a service job that he considered of urgent importance, and I admire him because, having an independent income, he has donated 100 per cent of his army pay to the Red Cross.

At the time he was shipped off to a conscientious objectors' camp, some very bitter things were said, here in Hollywood, about Lew Ayres. Studio bosses were almost unanimous in vowing that he would never work in pictures again. Under the circumstances, I think it's high time for those vows to be changed. Lew Ayres deserves his full measure of the post-war "breaks."

In a local newspaper, the other day, I saw a four column picture of Joan Blondell presenting a silver loving cup to a beauty contest winner, one of the highlights of a big party given to raise money for the Hollywood Guild Canteen. Miss Blondell wore slacks rolled halfway to her knees, a man's sport shirt, no hat, and a nondescript jacket which photographed, at least, like something rescued from a junk heap. And in that outfit, she appeared before 1,000 guests and several hundred service men. I wonder how many of them went away with a bit cynical about the glamour of movie stars? And I wonder how many people, seeing that picture in the paper, lost their urge to see Miss Blondell's next movie?

With much footfarrow and blowing of Every studio has promised to restore ex-employees now in the service to their pre-war positions when the shooting's over—but I still think actors released before general de-mobilization are in luck. They are being rushed into grease paint because there is, at this moment, a genuine shortage of male stars. By the time the others return, the shortage is apt to be succeeded by an over-supply. Hollywood has recruited scores of replacements, many of whom have won big fan followings, while men in the service, inevitably, have lost ground with theater-goers. To illustrate the problem, I foresee, put yourself in the place of a producer whose schedule makes room for only a limited number of male stars—and then try to choose between a Sunny Tufts, for instance, and a man who has been away for three or four years.

Five years ago, most Hollywood wisecracks considered it suicidal to spend more than $2,000,000 on a movie—any movie. Came the war and they cut that figure in half. Yet today the sky seems to be the limit. "Dragon Seed"—certainly not a phenomenal film as far as merit is concerned—grossed $925,000 in eight weeks in just one theater. "Since You Went Away," panned by Eastern critics, took in $47,000 in four days at New York's Capitol Theater! It's the greatest Bonanza in the history of the show business.

If you want to spread good cheer among Americans serving overseas, try Abbott and Costello's stunt of wrapping all gifts in pages from the funny papers. I've seen some of their fan mail, and the gesture is winning GI cheers.

BY HENRY McLEMORE
By Mrs. Henry McLemore
Maybe you'd like to read a few paragraphs from some of Henry's recent letters.

"Day before yesterday I had a wire from Hope that he was arriving so I started walking to the airport to meet him. As I was trudging along the road a jeep nearly ran over me and as I took cover in some nearby bushes to escape the onslaught I heard a familiar voice say, 'This is impossible. I know it can't be true. Still the guy that we damned near killed is the spit and image of Henry McLemore. He's a man who used to be a columnist back in the state!'

"I peeked out from the bushes and who do you think was driving the jeep—Bud Ward. Remember him, Jeanie, the amateur golf champion?"

"So, as you can imagine, I got a ride, and as we were tearing down the road in approved jeep fashion, we saw a lonely jerk walking along, evidently bent on getting to the airport, too. We slowed up and asked him if he would like a ride and, so help me, I couldn't believe it when I saw his face. It was George Galas, owner of the Chicago Bears. I got to wondering sometimes if you ever run into anyone you know back there in the states. As far as I can figure, everyone is right down here in Dutch New Guinea."

"I went with Bob in his plane for a number of the shows. He and I did all right as far as we can figure but don't think those GIs were watching us when things like Frances Langford and Patty Thomas, the tap dancer, appeared."

"I give up! I'm afraid to go back to the states because I might get too lonely for all of my friends. I just turned around the corner and ran into Alf Vanderbilt, who is the skipper of a PT boat and a very good skipper, too. It really is amazing, Jean, to be here in Dutch New Guinea and run into so many people whom I have known for years.

"On the other hand, dear, I must repeat, that if you ever want to see this part of the world, you are going to have to see it by yourself. If there is one place I never want to see again, it is the south Pacific. Go ahead and keep your illusions about beautiful tropical islands inhabited solely by gorgeous damsels. Why no one ever thought to bring the insect life into any of the movies, I don't know. In any realistic movie the insects would have to billing.

"When I finish this letter I must do my washing. A lot of it has accumulated and I am down to my last pair of everything. I never knew that I would get into a state where I would miss Lux and Chipso and Ivory Flakes but I do. All I can do here is to shave up some GI soap and hope for the best. That stuff really gives you tattle-tale marks on your hands. As a matter of fact, it does more than that. If you keep your hands in it more than a few minutes, it will eat them off at the wrist. Ah, my, I must make some preparation to have my clothes boiled when I finish washing them. It leaves them sweeter smelling. I have been told."

"Mail is coming through pretty regularly now and instead of getting batches of letters I'm getting them each day, about ten days after you have written them."

"You can't imagine what a good effect the European war news is having on all of us down here. It's nice to know that you have guys like that fighting on your side."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

TEXT: 2 Samuel 7:17-29
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.
Out of the strangely varied story of David and the establishment of the kingdom of Israel, with its primitive elements, its aspect of border and tribal warfare, and its conflicts of jealousies and hatreds, comes this passage in our lesson with its high portrayal of the place of religion in the life of a nation, and its insistence upon the favor of Providence and dependence upon Providence as the necessary foundation of national stability and welfare.

Whence arose this conception of Israel as a chosen people, and as a nation destined for greatness and called to special service? The conception evidently was not shared by all, for both among the leaders and among the people were many who lived and acted with utter disregard of God's will or guidance, giving themselves over to idolatrous practices and to selfish and materialistic ways. It was the prophets who proclaimed the conception of a holy people, chosen of God and fulfilling His will. But the people did not live upon this high plane, and the history of Israel was failure, downfall, and rejection. Excepted was that holy remnant who endured and survived the Babylonian captivity, giving to the world the noble prophetic literature on national greatness through devotion to truth and righteousness, and through service and sacrifice.

This whole study of religion in the life of a nation might be profitably made by a comparison of our modern American situation with that of ancient Israel. Here, too, there are those who think of our nation as chosen of God and subject to His guidance. They not only sing, and they live in the spirit of "God Bless America," and they would like to make America a blessing to all nations, fulfilling in a modern way that ancient prophecy, "In thy seed shall all nations of the earth be blessed." For these high-minded patriots there democracy is virtually a religion, a political expression of that holy attitude manifested by the Pilgrims. They think of American democracy as a holy thing, based on, and seeking the fulfillment of, ideals of brotherhood, justice, goodwill, and the promotion of the common good and welfare.

The hope of America, and of the world, depends chiefly upon these, and fortunately they constitute a large proportion of the population. But unfortunately among Americans millions are many who do not share such an ideal, or who give it only lip service. As in ancient Israel we have self-seekers and idolaters, the worshippers of the golden calf, who set material interests above the common good, and to whom America is only a land for their exploitation for their own ends. Comparable to these self-seekers are those whose interest is only in their own class, and the demagogues who seek importance or power by stirring up prejudices and antagonisms. At the lowest scale are the sheer criminals, and the unavowed and unconvicted criminals who have set their own interest and above every consideration of danger to the state, and say nothing of the common good and welfare.

Which of these is the real America? Which will conquer in the coming day? Israel went down to defeat and disaster, in spite of its high-minded patriots, because the self-seekers got the upper hand. Our greatest task today is to extend and deepen the power of that true Americanism with its ideal of democracy akin to the ideal of Christianity, which proclaims the worth and value of man and seeks as its supreme goal the fullness of the redemption and the building of the kingdom of love and truth.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON
JUDAH P. BENJAMIN—Judah P. Benjamin, brilliant statesman, was born of English parents on the island of St. Thomas in the West Indies. He came to America as a boy. After a brilliant career as a member of the bar, he was elected to the U. S. Senate from Louisiana. On March 7, 1853, an information was filed against him signed by 29 legislators that his election was illegal because he was never naturalized as an American citizen, and was therefore an English subject. Eventually Jefferson Davis appointed him secretary of war of the Confederacy. As a fugitive in England he sought and obtained admission to the English bar on his sworn statement that he had always been an English subject.

IN WASHINGTON

By Peter Edson
(Monroe Morning World Washington Correspondent)

Problems of reconversion are being magnified far beyond their true seriousness, according to a new line of argument, beginning to be heard in Washington.

Up to now, all the emphasis has been put on how horrible this period of transition from war to peace is going to be. Everybody is going to be thrown out of a job, industry retails for civilian consumers' goods production, and a tough time will be had by all according to the popular notion.

A few people, however, insist this is a lot of bunk. Congress refused to believe it in considering its reconversion bill, consistently voting against unemployment insurance benefits beyond state limitations. And among the business men now in government service, particularly those in the war department procurement and purchases, the belief is prevalent that reconversion won't be such a terrible problem after all. These civilians in uniform have been reluctant to speak out on their ideas for fear their expressions will be misinterpreted as an effort to sidetrack the movement to start reconversion right now. But all of these men will take off their uniforms after the war is over and go back to private business, so it would seem foolish for them to do anything that would spoil their own future.

Where Labor Is Needed
Here is the way the situation spells out to them:

Munitions industries will be shut down, yes. Shell-loading and explosive plants will be closed up, but most of them are in out-of-the-way places which have no industrial future, anyway. Only about five per cent of the present aircraft production capacity can be used and the ship yards will, in the main, go out of business.

Estimates of the number of jobs which will disappear in the above industries vary from 1,500,000 to 5,000,000. That is the negative and bad side of the picture.

Now look at the other industries.

In the first place, the navy will not stop its present building program, which is planned to run beyond 1945.

Next is a big group of industries which have no reconversion problem at all. Steel mills can go right on making steel. Sizes and shapes may change, but it will still be steel. The same thing goes for all metals production—aluminum, copper or what have you.

Food production and processing will likewise continue. Sizes of cans and packaging may be changed for peace-time trade, but there is no reconversion problem.

The textile industry could use 100,000 more employees right now, if it could get them, and it has no reconversion problem. Looms now making every dog on public property must be on a lead under control of a responsible person.

The Ouchita parish chairman is Dr. H. H. Baur.

NAME DELEGATES TO NATIONAL MEET
John B. Bailey, of the Central Trades and Labor Council of Monroe, stated Saturday that there will be a special meeting held at the Labor Temple Monday night.

At that time, delegates and alternates will be named to attend the national convention of the American Federation of Labor convention in New Orleans, opening November 4. All members of the council are urged to attend the Monday night meeting.

MARY GOSS HOME RECEIVES GIFTS

The following donations to the Mary Goss Home for colored persons for the past month are reported by Belle Sherman, caretaker:

Joe Biedenhorn, $2; Miss Emma Lou Biedenhorn, $10; Sig Masur, $2; Maul Collins, $4; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hall, $4; Lisotta's Bar, $10.

Club No. 8, First Baptist Church, gave $5 and a fruit shower. City Bakery gives bread as does the Ouchita Baking Company. Ford, Bacon and Simonton Grain Company gave 50 pounds of flour.

It is also stated that there are many other friends who donate but do not wish to have their names published. The home is sincerely thankful to these people, and regrets they are unable to give names withheld by special request.

Colored donations:

City-wide usher board $5 in groceries; Tabernacle mission, $2; Protective Association, $3; Davenport Grocery gave a four-pound roast; Rev. Johnson gave $2.50; Working Workers Club gave $2.50; Booker T. Washington Community Club gave $4.50.

The Rev. E. Mason will preach at the home on Sunday, Sept. 24. The public is invited.

NATIONAL DOG WEEK PLANNED

National Dog Week this year, to be observed September 17 to 23, is the seventeenth such consecutive annual observance in this country. It is a non-commercial and non-profit institution.

Broad objectives of National Dog Week are two: 1. Make dogs more useful and valuable to their owners through emphasis on their proper care and training. 2. Respect for the rights of those who do not own dogs.

Special objectives this year include: 1. Every dog trained in obedience, guard or other useful work; 2. Proper care and feeding of dogs under wartime conditions; 3. No stray dogs; every dog on public property must be on a lead under control of a responsible person.

The Ouchita parish chairman is Dr. H. H. Baur.

IT MAY NOT BE SO TOUGH

Transportation industries can also use more labor and have a big accumulation of maintenance and repair work to do. Locomotive and railroad equipment manufacturers, which made tanks at the outset of the war, have already been largely converted back, through they are still on war orders.

Electrical goods makers will simply make different electrical goods.

Problems of the automobile industry have been exaggerated. Truck makers, now turning out 60,000 vehicles a

New York Day By Day

By CHARLES B. DRISCOLL
Title Reg. U. S. Patent Office

NEW YORK—Diary: It's been a long time since we've had a baby running the show at our house. Daughter Mary brings Granddaughter Nancy home from the hospital today. We're wondering whether Captain Kidd and Jones will be jealous of the newcomer. . . . It is interesting to watch the working of animal jealousy among the others and dog owned by Emil Liers, of Minnesota, who has just closed his season at the Bronx Zoo. Toughe, golden retriever, helps take care of the others, and he and they are great friends. They roll and play together, one or more of the others will come running across the lawn, poke Toughe with a sharp nose, or bite his ear, to make him get up. Then the other will climb into Emil's lap to be scratched and petted. . . . Others are much like dogs in their tendency to fasten affections upon one master or mistress. They caper and whine and bark and talk when the master comes into view, come when called, and stand on their hind legs for food, as dogs do. . . . I have spent much time at the Zoo this summer, watching and getting acquainted with the others, and I shall miss them until spring comes 'round.

I can't get Indiana off my mind today. This is such a small world that I've met three Hoosiers in the course of an afternoon in Manhattan, none of them knowing either of the others.

At a Park avenue hotel I met Flight Officer John S. Shinn, of Fort Wayne, introduced by my old friend, Glenn Young, business school proprietor, of Brooklyn. Shinn is back from foreign service, but he would not tell us any tales of the wars. At first, he thought Young was kidding him about the introduction, because he had been telling Young how he became acquainted with New York by reading this column.

Then I met Miss Mary Alice Clark, member of the staff of the Munch Star, a Quaker girl in gray and black. She was on her first visit to New York, and properly pop-eyed about the tall buildings and the fairy-land view of the town from the Empire State tower at night.

Mary Alice is 22, a year out of college, a columnist of promise, and an enthusiast about newspaper work. . . . I also gave him the "Pratt's Guide," which I had produced some of the world's greatest journalists and authors.

She helped me sort the day's mail, and was impressed with the letter from her home state. Women who smoke in the streets seemed somewhat shocking to her.

Bill Roller, properly called Mr. Zohner E. Roller, from Kansas in Indiana, told me of a new hobby of his. He's collecting first lines of books. He likes to get them in the hand writing of the author when that is possible, but he will type and file some of the fine first lines of books by authors no longer living.

He asked for first lines from me. "Kansas Irish," "Doubloons," and "Pirates Ahoy!" I also gave him the last lines from two of these books, thinking to get him started on the task also.

I think it's a fine idea for a collection. I've no doubt Bill will develop a standard sheet, for neat filing, and will mail or hand this sheet to each living author, with his request.

He suggested that this might prove a burden to authors, I said, "Don't worry! They'll be tickled pink. Nothing pleases an author more than strutting his stuff, and that goes for all 'em, from Shakespeare down."

WEST MONROE TO CUT CITY TAXES

A decrease of 14 mills in municipal taxes in West Monroe is announced by Mayor D. C. Gelson and the board of aldermen. Lower levies when possible had been previously promised. The reduction will be from 17.4 mill to 16 mills.

The mayor stated that this will effect considerable of a saving to property owners. The reduction can be attributed to the fact that the city's assessed valuation has been considerably increased and tax collection have been nearly 100 per cent.

The city hall is to undergo a complete renovation at this time, it is stated.

N. J. C. OFFERS NIGHT CLASSES

Registration Will Be On Monday And Tuesday; Subjects Varied

Evening school registration is to start Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 18 and 19, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at the Northeast Junior College. Any adult, who is either a graduate of an accredited high school, 21 years of age, or a service man or woman, will be admitted to the night school. Students who do not wish to take classes for credit, will be registered as non-credit students.

Evening school catalogs were mailed to prospective students. In case one failed to receive a catalog, one can attend the organization meetings Monday and Tuesday evenings. Almost any class can be organized provided a minimum of eight register for the course and a qualified instructor is available. The cost is nominal. A student will be able to attend Northeast Junior College classes three months for as little as $6 and in no case is the cost more than $10 for the three months instruction.

Classes to meet the needs of W.A.C.s, enlisted men and officers in service at Selman Field, are being carefully considered. Many of these service men and women have requested credit courses, refresher courses and terminal courses. They are getting ready to avail themselves of the educational advantages of the G. I. bill. Some want to get off as much of their freshman and sophomore college credits as possible before the war ends. Then they can enter college and finish their training for civilian jobs in a minimum time.

Many civilians now holding wartime jobs will need additional college training to be able to hold their jobs in peace time. Competition in the manpower market will be much keener after the war ends. Many employers are now looking for better trained personnel. The wise employers are trying to meet the demands of peacetime requirements that will be set up immediately upon the fall of Germany and Japan.

Northeast Junior College will offer a number of courses in the departments of agriculture, home economics, commerce and business administration.

tion, health and physical education, music, social science, and science. Students interested in training for office positions, teachers pre-medical, pre-law, nurses training, community glee clubs, and choruses will find their needs provided for at Northeast Junior College. Emphasis is placed on the fact that those taking subjects should register on Monday or Tuesday nights.

RUSSIAN WILL BE TAUGHT AT L. S. U.

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Russian will again be taught in a night class under the sponsorship of Louisiana State University's general extension division. Dr. Marion B. Smith, director, announced today.

Dr. John T. Krumpelmann of the Germanic languages faculty will be in charge of the course, Smith said. The class will be taught by the informant method, as it was last year, a native of Russia being present to demonstrate pronunciation and to converse with the students.

Dr. Smith announced that Russian classes will begin next Monday night, meeting twice weekly, and will end December 2.

POULTRY HOME CANNING LOOMS

Next Six Months Should See Much Work Done States Agent

Now that farmers are culling and selling large numbers of chickens, to get rid of low-producers and loafers, home canning and freezing of chicken should be increased during the next six months, especially in July, August and September, advises Jewel L. McQuiller, home demonstration agent of Ouachita parish.

Short feed supplies and egg marketing difficulties are causing many farmers to cull flocks more closely this year, and low chicken prices in the summer and fall months make it economical to preserve chicken against the days when it will be scarce. The total amount of chicken available for civilians will be four pounds less per capita than in 1943. These reasons show that it will be advisable for housewives to begin canning or freezing chickens now, Mrs. McQuiller says.

"Whether chickens are canned or frozen, they should be slaughtered in a thoroughly sanitary way. Feed the chickens only water for 12 hours before killing, since empty crops save feed and contribute to easier and more sanitary dressing. Bleed the chickens well, and scald with water that has just begun to simmer. Scald only long enough to pull out the feathers easily or semi-scald in water 125 to 128 degrees F. for 15 seconds to one minute, according to the age of the bird. After picking, chill the chickens thoroughly in cold water or dry cool at as near 32 degrees as possible. When cooled, dry them and singe," explains Mrs. McQuiller.

Freezing is an excellent way to preserve frying and roasting chickens for a few weeks or for a year, or longer. Most families prefer to can the older, less tender, stewing fowls, the home demonstration agent says.

Information on the best canning and freezing methods may be obtained at the home demonstration agent's office in agricultural building, in West Monroe.

The Liberty Bell was cracked on July 8, 1835.

WILL OBSERVE INCOMING YEAR

Jewish People Will Celebrate New Year In Monroe Today

On Monday, Sept. 18, Jewish synagogues throughout the world will observe the traditional New Year. This is preceded by a solemn religious service on the eve of the day and in orthodox synagogues services are also conducted on the day following.

The day is universally observed by Jews, not only because of adherence to an ancient calendar but because of the religious ideas associated with the beginning of a new year.

The mood of the Jewish observance of Rosh Hashana (the beginning of the year) is one of atonement and expiation. It ushers in the ten days of repentance that end with the day of repentance, Yom Kippur. It is regarded as a day of reckoning when man makes his peace with his God.

The traditional greeting of the day is "May you be inscribed in the book of life." In the synagogue, the service is marked by the blowing of the shofar (ram's horn) regarded as the call to repentance according to Biblical injunction.

The holy day will be observed throughout the world where Jews reside including the armed forces where special services are being arranged. In Monroe the Congregation B'Nai Israel extends to members hearty good wishes as the Jewish New Year comes again. Rosh Hashana will be observed today at 5 p. m. when Rabbi F. K. Hirsch will speak on "Broadened Horizons." His sermon on Monday morning will be "The Builders."

The annual reception given by the Rabbi will be held in the annex, Monday from 4 to 6 p. m.

3,065 ENROLL AT L. S. U. BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—A total of 3,065 students are enrolled on the main campus of Louisiana State University, the registrar's office announced today. Figures were not yet available here from the two junior colleges and from the medical school in New Orleans. The number at L. S. U. includes 90 World War II veterans, the registrar's office said.

BOY SCOUT COUNCIL MEETS IN BASTROP

The Northern District of the Ouachita Valley Boy Scout Council held its annual meeting in Bastrop Thursday evening.

Approximately 30 scouts from Bastrop, Oak Grove, and Oak Ridge attended the meeting. Reports showed a substantial growth in all branches of Scouting in the district and plans were formulated for the further development of Scouting in Morehouse and West Carroll parishes.

J. G. Wilson, Bastrop, was unanimously reelected district chairman and James Madison, Bastrop, was elected co-chairman. M. M. Crove was reelected district commissioner.

A. B. Clarkson, Monroe, council president, was the principal speaker. Other council officials attending the meeting were J. W. Webster, chairman of organization and extension; L. K. Brooks, Ruston, finance chairman; and Charles B. Cook, scout executive of Monroe.

The army ordinance 50 caliber machine gun is one of the few weapons used by all our armed services.

RED ARMY

slavia, which already has been cut by Marshal Tito's partisans. Sofia is only about 104 miles north of the Greek port of Salonika.

Since their crossing into Bulgaria September 8 the Russians had traveled an air distance of 225 miles to Sofia in their swift drive to annihilate all the Axis troops in Yugoslavia, Greece, and Albania. Elements of Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian Army already had established contact with the Yugoslav partisans at Negotin, south of the Danube river 100 miles northwest of Sofia.

With Bulgaria seeking an armistice with the Allies and declaring war on Germany, Bulgar troops were aiding in the Balkan cleanup.

In the wheeling attack outflanking Warsaw on the north the Russians and Poles during the day captured five more localities above the captured suburb of Praga—steadily driving the enemy into a pocket formed by the Vistula, Bug and Narew rivers, the communists said.

These included Pelcowina, on the Vistula river two miles northwest of Praga and opposite Zolborz, or the old city district of Warsaw, and Kotlaske, six miles north of Praga and 14 miles southeast of Nowy-Dwor, where the waters of the Bug and Narew empty into the Vistula.

In northern Transylvania the Russians aided by Romanian troops captured more than 50 localities, the communists said, including Hodac, 22 miles northeast of the German-Hungarian stronghold of Targu-Mures. Other Soviet troops already are within 15 miles of Targu-Mures on the south-east.

In northeastern Romania the Russians also captured Vatra-Dornei, 55 miles southeast of the tip of Czechoslovakia and only 10 miles from Hungarian-annexed Transylvania, in their advance through the Carpathian mountains on the approaches to Barga Pass.

Meanwhile a Hungarian communistic broadcast by Budapest disclosed that either Russian or Romanian troops, or both, were fighting close to the pre-war Hungarian frontier.

Budapest announced that Hungarian troops, striking from their base at Oradea, had crossed the tip of Czechoslovakia on a 50-mile front in western Romania, running between Lipova, Ineu and Beius. These three localities are 25 to 38 miles from Hungary, and Ineu is only 147 miles across the plains from Budapest.

Moscow dispatches said that Russian sien patrols already had entered Warsaw, crossing the wide Vistula from Praga and gathering valuable information on German troop dispositions. There still was no indication, however, that the Russian and Polish troops under Polish-born Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky would attempt a frontal attack on Warsaw, which sits on a 130-foot bluff across the 400-yard Vistula. It was considered more likely that a strong artillery curtain would be laid down on the city while Soviet troops attempted to cross the river above and below the city, as they did at Kiev on the Dnepr river last November.

The Russians already had a bridgehead on the west bank of the Vistula at Warka, 25 miles southeast of Warsaw.

Warsaw was blotted from view at times by pillars of smoke and flames caused by both the heavy Russian shelling and the fight within the city between Polish patriots and the Nazi defenders.

A Czechoslovakian communistic broadcast said that Russian troops attacking from southern Poland already had crossed the East Beskids mountain frontier into eastern Slovakia, and contacted Slovak partisans. Czech planes for the first time battled German fighters in Slovakian skies, the bulletin said.

Soviet bombers on Friday night carried out a mass raid on the rail junction city of Debrecen, 115 miles east of Budapest, Moscow said, bombing concentrations of military trains and industrial objectives. On the previous two nights the Russians had raided Budapest.

Moscow was silent on Germany's report of a two-day-old Soviet offensive in the north, but Berlin said that 40 Red army divisions, upwards of 400,000 men, were attacking on a 150-mile front extending from the Jelgava area of Latvia to Valga in Estonia.

One Soviet group reached the Jelgava-Krustpils Railway north of Bauska at a point only 20 miles from Riga, Berlin said. Riga's seizure again would split Germany's two Baltic armies.

"Some idea of the scale of the new offensive can be gained," Berlin said, "if one considers that the Russian command used 15 infantry divisions as well as several thousand brigades on a sector only 20 miles wide."

that of hammering home to the German people some truths about the firm purpose of the fighting men who are on German soil as invaders.

The burning of Wallendorf met quick approval in London, where newspaper readers had puzzled over front line pictures the past few days showing Doughboys treating smiling German families to army rations.

There is no thought here that the Germans should be treated with civility, but as a good many comment: "The German's still not our friend."

Ball's dispatch said the villagers emerged from the hill and trudged back to the ruins of their homes through American columns, looking neither to the right nor left.

Their gaunt peasant faces looked like other faces seen in the ruins of France's devastated villages.

MOROTAI

previous night a Catalina patrol plane downed a 3,000 ton freighter-transport in Manado harbor, northern Celebes.

Other aircraft roamed throughout the entire southwestern area, in a vast semi-circle from the Banda sea to the Bismarck archipelago.

The force which Gen. Douglas MacArthur landed on undefended Morotai Island indicates this was a dress rehearsal for a bigger task ahead—the long-awaited invasion of the Philippines, 300 miles to the north.

From eyewitness accounts by Associated Press war correspondents on the scene it appears that General MacArthur, who was aware that the little island was virtually undefended, threw in a much greater force than he knew would be required for the job.

Fifteen air strips, overrun by kunai grass, is being cleared by bulldozers as marines in the other amphibious landing on Peleliu Island in the Palau group rid their positions of Japanese troops.

Associated Press War Correspondent Spencer Davis said that warships sailed the anchorage off Morotai until it looked like a busy day in San Francisco bay.

This great force encountered practically no opposition. There were a few snipers on the northernmost beachhead but they were quickly overwhelmed.

Another Associated Press correspondent, Richard C. Bergholz, said that the force he had accompanied ashore to the south encountered no Japanese and no shots were fired.

It was fortunate that General MacArthur selected an undefended beach because offshore the waters were like those off Tarawa, scene of a costly marine landing in the Pacific last fall. Landing craft at Morotai ran aground on coral reefs more than 50 yards offshore and not only the troops but General MacArthur himself had to wade waist deep to reach the shore.

Warships pounded the beach for an hour before the landing to insure the troops time to get ashore, before the Japanese could get set. As it happened, there were few reasons, however, for sending in the large force besides giving them experience in amphibious warfare. Headquarters back here, several hundred miles from the air strip started 24 hours after the landing, which means that before long bombers and fighters from Morotai will be pounding Philippine bases in the softening up prelude to that invasion.

At the same time the landing bypassed thousands of Japanese entrenched on Halmahera with American forces on two sides.

Americans, who have spent much time down under, are taking deep satisfaction in the fact that they are now fighting north of the equator.

Associated Press Correspondent Asahel Bush, aboard a flagship, quoted navy Lt. Kenneth Rawls of Columbia, S. C., as saying: "It pleases me to look up into the night sky and see the north star where it belongs. It makes you feel closer to home."

TANKS

because along the Adriatic front they were most without transport.

Along the Marano river and before Rimini the Germans brought up Tiger and Panther tanks and self-propelled artillery to bolster their thin line of infantry.

They were fighting to keep the Eighth off the broad highway from Rimini northward to Bologna and Milan behind the Gothic line.

Canadians were the first to cross the Marano river and were engaged by panzer grenadiers. British tanks and infantry came up, crossed the stream and captured the villages of Ospedaletto and Patignano, five miles south of Rimini.

Greek troops fighting up the coast captured San Lorenzo and Intradra, five miles southeast of Rimini, then forced the Marano and pushed on two miles to the airfield.

Further inland the British captured Montecudo, almost at the eastern frontier of the tiny state of San Marino.

Prisoners captured since the start of the Adriatic offensive rose to 5,300, headquarters announced.

Headquarters also disclosed that the British 46th division, which as a part of the Fifth army assault force captured the city of Salerno last September, scored the preliminary break which opened the way to Rimini.

name an over-all Allied commander for the war against Japan or for the Pacific sector of that war. No such purpose, it developed, was on the Quebec agenda. The Pacific command had been settled long in advance.

Nor can there be any doubt that MacArthur is fully satisfied with the share now assigned him, the capture of the Philippines. That will be made clear in due course when the division of duties between Allied theater commanders in Asia from the Pacific to the Indian ocean, and to China can be revealed.

DEATHS

NUGENT FUNERAL

The funeral of Edward H. Nugent, 38, fireman for the city power and light plant, who died following an operation in a local clinic, will be held at the Mulhearn Funeral Home this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. A. M. Serex, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating. Interment will be in Riverside Burial Park. The pallbearers will be: W. M. Leve, J. C. Wainwright, J. M. Bell, Jack Tomatore, Bert Coveydale and O. L. Kukham.

Mr. Nugent leaves his wife, Mrs. Beatrice Glenn Nugent; two children, Charles Edward Nugent and Bobby Ray Nugent; his mother, Mrs. H. W. Brown, Monroe, and a brother, Sgt. Fred Nugent, Fort Sill, Okla.

DAVID DARNELL

Funeral services for David Darnell, 35, West Monroe, who was fatally injured when his truck turned over some time Thursday night in Richland parish, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock for the funeral procession will leave Hall Funeral Home here this afternoon at 1 o'clock for the Walnut Creek Baptist Church where last rites will take place, and burial will follow in the Walnut Creek Cemetery.

Mr. Darnell is survived by his wife, his father, W. E. Darnell, Holly Ridge; two daughters, Helen Beatrice and Joy Dell Darnell; two sons, Dan Edward and Robert Lee Darnell; three sisters, Mrs. Allena McDonald, Conroe, Miss. Miss Lou Jean Darnell and Betty Ann Darnell, both of West Monroe; and five brothers, William Lewis Darnell, Laville Darnell, Thomas Wade Darnell, W. T. Darnell, and Charles Edward Darnell, all of Holly Ridge.

There were no witnesses to the accident, according to reports, but it was said that passersby found Mr. Darnell pinned beneath his truck shortly after midnight Thursday. He was rushed to a local hospital where he died about 2 o'clock Friday morning.

Mr. Darnell was employed by the Monroe Sand and Gravel Company and was in a company truck at the time of the accident, it was reported.

slit trench in the front lines, for we believe him to be a man of vision; a man of understanding—especially of the wants, hopes, and dreams of the common soldier. It is this keen understanding, and the general's well known ability of expression and timing that will swing President Roosevelt back into the White House with the certain vote of every mother, father, sweetheart and wife who has a man serving overseas. That is why I urge you to support Mr. Roosevelt—he has such men around him to guide and counsel him in his moments of decision.

"As you see I can hardly control my enthusiasm, for we love it here and will love it even more so after the war is won. We love the simple life of ease and quiet dignity, far from the clamor and turmoil of America and home. Our only wish is that we can have an end to this dreadful talk of demobilization, this awful spectre of returning home over the storm-tossed waters of the gray Atlantic. We want to stay here forever and forever among our pleasant European friends. (Yeah, friends.)"

"We are certain that none of us would ever consider returning home to America and taking work away from the poor fellows who have so nobly stood up under the strains of gasoline rationing, cuffless trousers and union scales."

Representative Woodruff, Republican, Michigan, had the letter entered in the Congressional Record with the names of the signers reduced to initials and home states—two from Tennessee and one each from Michigan, Kentucky, California, Illinois, Virginia, Oklahoma, New York and Maryland.

While it was considered most likely the first step would be the filing in the state supreme court of a motion for leave to file a petition seeking to compel Latham by mandamus to certify the September elections, there was some speculation on the possibility of a federal court suit.

1,380,000 BURNED
AT GERMAN CAMP

LONDON, Sept. 16.—(P)—The notorious Majdanek extermination camp near Lublin had a torture staff that included German women whose specialty was torturing women prisoners, the Polish Soviet extraordinary announced today.

A communication of the commission, broadcast from Moscow, asserted the camp had a capacity of 45,000 prisoners and a report sent to Berlin on a special occasion announced 18,000 executions on a single day.

The commission reported a total of 1,380,000 bodies were burned at the camp, 200,000 in special furnaces able to burn four bodies in 15 minutes; the legs and arms were chopped off, 300,000 on bonfires in a nearby forest, 300,000 in two old furnaces and at least 400,000 on bonfires near the crematorium.

The commission said 320,000 pairs of victims' shoes were found, many of them belonging to children.

Passports and other documents proved the victims included Polish and Soviet prisoners of war and nationals of all the subjugated European countries, including Italy, the commission stated.

"The commission has ascertained that the chief culprits responsible for these atrocities are the Hitlerite government and the superhanger Himmler, and their officials of the SS on the territory of the Lublin region," the statement said.

"There should be no politics in war," she said in an interview.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—(P)—Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers, Massachusetts Republican, and former affairs committee member, said today information she had received in London and Washington led her to believe that the war against Germany "could be pushed forward much more quickly" if she was starting an investigation of what she termed a "delay" to see if its cause is political.

day. Five enemy planes intercepted. One Liberator was damaged and the raiders probably damaged one enemy plane.

Paramushiro, in the Kuriles, was attacked Tuesday by army Liberators and Friday by navy Venturas. The Venturas probably damaged two interceptors.

Thunderbolts attacked Pagan in the northern Marianas Friday with rockets.

A search plane strafed two landing craft and shot down an enemy fighter near Iwo Jima, in the Volcano Islands, 750 miles south of Tokyo.

Meanwhile American army forces were working on new airfields on Morotai Island, 375 miles south of Davao. These forces took the island almost unopposed since the Japanese apparently had expected them to strike against Halmahera, south of Morotai.

Peleliu appeared to be the key to the entire Palau chain in which the Japanese have garrisoned a total of estimated 40,000 soldiers. With the strategic southern island and its airfield in American hands the Yanks would be in position to neutralize the rest of the group and prevent Japanese reinforcements from reaching the region.

The Japanese were fighting furiously to stem the American tide. Warships stood offshore to protect the beachhead and aid Yank ground forces. Flares also supported the leathernets.

Leif Erickson, Associated Press correspondent aboard the American flagship off Peleliu, said naval guns and carrier-based planes blasted the Japanese in a strong ridge position overlooking the airfield. Battleships and cruisers snuffed out flanking Japanese fire from the high position.

Rembert James, another Associated Press war correspondent ashore with the marines, reported that United States troops "left tracked" landing craft on the white sand along the beach and pushed on through tangled jungle growth. They reached the airport on two sides by early afternoon (of invasion day) and thrust ahead more than half way across the island. The Japanese dragged their dead with them as they fell back under continuing strafing and fire from the advancing marines.

COURTS

ment by Patman here yesterday that Latham's decision was "outrageous, contrary to law, a Fascist step."

Pro-Roosevelt, James V. Alfred, former governor and permanent chairman of the September 12 convention told the Wichita Falls Record-News: "It looks as if we have to win everything the hard way, but we will win this fight in the courts and at the polls. The people will not be denied their right."

Anti-Roosevelt: R. A. Stuart, Fort Worth attorney, praised Latham's decision with the statement: "Fortunately, our secretary of state, our state government and our courts are not susceptible to pressure—unlike the leaders of several of the delegations at Tuesday's convention."

Leading attorneys for the pro-Roosevelt faction met here to plan their legal strategy.

While it was considered most likely the first step would be the filing in the state supreme court of a motion for leave to file a petition seeking to compel Latham by mandamus to certify the September elections, there was some speculation on the possibility of a federal court suit.

VITAL NEED FOR BANDAGES URGED

The Ouachita Parish Red Cross chapter is sending out a "S. O. S." call for workers to make badly-needed bandages. During August there were 250 less persons engaged in rolling bandages than in the month of July.

This rather discouraging fact is faced when the chapter has just received word that for the month of October, 150,000 bandages will be asked as the quota from Ouachita Parish Red Cross Chapter. To realize this goal, and never yet has the chapter here fallen down on a goal, will require all the workers that can possibly be secured. These 150,000 bandages also must be shipped from here on November 1.

Many are of the opinion that the war is nearly over and that there is no longer any need of supplies of any nature. This is not true and with the hardest fighting of the war right ahead, the casualties are bound to mount up and more and more bandages than ever are required. Further details can be had by phoning the Red Cross but prompt aid is said to be imperative.

TWO CHIEFS

forces proportionate to the national strength."

Colorfully, illustrating Britain's determination in the Far East, Churchill reminded his hearers that "the egg hatched here last year is now on foot."

And, he added, the sprout of last year has grown into a tree.

The conference, the prime minister said, was held "in a blaze of friendship."

Mr. Roosevelt led off the proceedings after Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada introduced him to the assembled reporters. As he talked, his scotchy fella snuffed at his shoes and threatened to lap water from the presidential glass beside his feet.

Mr. Roosevelt said the outstanding fact of the conference was that it had taken less time and had produced less argument, and had brought complete unanimity faster than any which he and the prime minister ever had conducted.

He emphasized that the major actions determined upon to beat the Japanese menace in the Pacific were complicated.

The problem of logistics, as well as strategy plans, he said, had to be considered. For, he said, plenty of men and materials are available, it still is a task to bring them together up to the scene of action.

We are going to make certain, the chief executive asserted, of ending barbarism in the Pacific.

Never, he said, was the question of a supreme command for the Pacific considered. He jibed good-naturedly those elements of the press that had speculated about one.

He recalled previous references he had made to the tremendous distances separating arenas of action in combat against the Japanese. And he asserted, there are necessarily three command-bases—that under Lord Louis Mountbatten in southeast Asia, the one under Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the southern Pacific, and the command afflout under Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

*I was there,

YOU SAY YOU'VE SEEN ME BEFORE? I wouldn't be surprised.

Maybe it was at the village green at Lexington. I stood my ground—didn't fire until fired upon—but they meant to have a war, and I let it begin there.

Maybe you've heard of a place called Valley Forge? So have I. It was a tough winter, all right. I should know. Those bleeding footprints in the snow were mine.

Might be that you ran into me on the fields of Gettysburg. They made a speech about me. Maybe you forget what I did there. I was one of the guys who gave that last full measure of devotion.

Yes, I remember the Alamo, too. You see, I held it. 187 Texans against 6,000 Mexicans. We never surrendered.

Then it seems there was a little trouble in France. Lafayette, I was there. And how I was there. I turned the ground red with my blood—but when the smoke cleared away, you can guess whose flag was planted on that ground. Look me up, sometime—at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

You Think it was somewhere else? Maybe it was. Maybe it was Bataan. Maybe you remember the four months we held out there with practically nothing for ammunition but guts.

Yeah. I was there all right. The Infantry is always there.

That's right, brother. Infantryman. Doughboy. Do-it man. That's me. I'm the guy they mean in the communiques when they say, "John Doe wiped out 3 machine gun nests single-handed." I'm the guy who came off those boats at Salerno. Who held the beachhead at Anzio. Who stormed the coast of Hitler's Fortress Europe.

I'm that thin black line you see weaving through valleys and over crags on that chart where it says, "American troops advanced 10 more miles today."

And when those troops start marching down the streets of Berlin, just keep an eye on me. I'll be in the front row. Look for the crossed rifles on the insignia and the crossed rivers on the map.

See you in the papers, brother. On page 1.

Keep your eye on the infantry...the doughboy does it!

Mrs. A. L. Dickerson and Mrs. Agnes Dickerson were hostesses to the Atheneum Club for its first meeting of this club year.

Beautiful flowers were noted in exquisite arrangement in the reception rooms where the members enjoyed a most interesting program.

Mrs. A. L. Dickerson, the president, presided over the meeting which was opened with the flag salute.

After a brief business period, Mrs. A. J. Lester, the program chairman, introduced Mrs. S. A. Kennedy, who gave an interesting paper on "American Citizenship."

Mrs. John S. Barr reviewed in interesting manner "Since You Went Away" by Margaret Buell Wilder. This book told in detail how a soldier husband and father is missed in the home, the inner feeling of the wife's heart being exposed in her daily letters, and at the same time, her sense of humor being such as to provoke laughter at the most serious moment.

Delicious refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table to Mesdames W. L. Morris Jr., A. J. Lester, Walter Minnear, D. L. Neal, T. Gallien, W. C. Curry, John S. Barr, Fred M. Grant, S. D. Kennedy, the hostesses and a guest, Mrs. Reed.

Mrs. R. Q. Cole is visiting in New Orleans, guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. French Sr., who will celebrate their golden wedding on September 20. Seven of the nine children born to her parents reside in New Orleans. Another daughter, Mrs. Lloyd S. Roberts, of Seattle, Wash., has already arrived for the occasion.

Twin-Cities Parent Teacher Council Plan Year Of Unprecedented Activity

P.-T. A. Members Swing Into Action

Prominent Speakers Address Great Gathering Of Women Who Seek Counsel

The greatest mass return to school of any country on earth is now taking place. It means that a return to study, to the school room, is a return to the war against ignorance—only through study are the fundamental truths made clear.

Tomorrow, when the school bells ring, children from Ouachita parish will flock to school in greater numbers than ever before. The free pursuit of learning is a boon many youngsters probably do not appreciate. To them it is an imposed duty and not a privilege. It means long hours in a classroom and evenings of home work when they would rather be out-of-doors playing. To the teenagers education does not mean the most important thing in the world today. It is the parents of these youngsters who realize fully the importance of an education.

The schools of this city and parish are fortunate indeed to have a flourishing Parent-Teacher association such as now exists in the Twin Cities. The long arm of this association reaches out to encircle every home where there is a child of school age. The Parent-Teacher Association offers counsel to parents concerning the life problem of their child.

"It's not the gales of chance that guides a boy's direction in life and make him a good man or a bad one, it's the way he sets his own sails." Parents and Teachers Association have learned how to win the confidence of their sons and daughters. Existence of this association would be justified even though it could boast of no other accomplishment than this.

Members of the Twin Cities Parent-Teacher Association spread their wings for action last week when they met at the First Baptist Church with the president, Mrs. George Varino, presiding.

The meeting was opened with the invocation by Rev. H. W. Hubley of St. Matthews Parochial School. This was followed by an address of welcome by Mrs. Alymer Montgomery, president of Neville P.-T. A. Greetings were given by Mr. G. W. Welch, superintendent of Ouachita parish schools and Mrs. M. L. De Freese, district P.-T. A. director. The response was given by Mrs. C. E. Braun of Georgia Tucker School P.-T. A.

Mr. Welch spoke of the illiteracy in this state and urged P.-T. A. members to work with the officials and see that the children go to school. It should be the obligation of each one to look into the matter of absentees. If the reason is an economic one, the welfare chairman can assist with their problem. With the compulsory school law it is hoped to bring up the state of Louisiana on the scale of illiteracy. Mr. Welch welcomed the group and hoped they would have a day of pleasure and information.

Mrs. De Freese, addressing the assembly said, "The post-war world plans will be made by us, but remember it will be our children who will carry them out."

Mr. E. A. Alexander, music director of the First Baptist Church, led the group in assembly singing.

During the period that followed, each unit president made a short report regarding their plans for this new year.

Mrs. C. W. Williams of Barkdall Faulk P.-T. A. spoke in the absence of the president. She stated that their program for the year would stress "Legislation." She also made the announcement that the child welfare council meets monthly on the second Tuesday of the month at the Frances Hotel at 8 p. m. and urged all presidents to be present as well as their welfare chairman and others interested in child welfare. This meeting is open to all interested in youth and the members consist of representatives of various clubs and associations in the Twin Cities who are interested in assisting the child welfare department.

Mrs. Vincent Marsala, president of St. Matthew's P.-T. A. stated that funds would be raised to obtain funds to improve the cafeteria and get playground equipment. Welfare will be stressed as usual.

Miss Myrtle Rodgers, principal of Georgia Tucker School, thanked those members for their assistance during the summer with the OPA. She stressed the need for all to do their part on the home front and urged each P.-T. A. to remember the need for workers and hoped that each unit would cooperate with the OPA during the coming year.

Before presenting Mrs. Walter Buhlig the principal speaker of the day, Miss Kate Perkins stated how glad she was to be among her P.-T. A. friends and wished to thank everyone for the many kindnesses shown her during her long and serious illness. Miss Perkins said that instead of presenting Mrs. Buhlig whom she found to be a most charming person, she turned to Mrs. Buhlig and said "We present ourselves to you to be inspired and informed."

Mrs. Buhlig stressed Parent Education and asked each one to ask themselves "What am I doing that is vital?" She said, "Are you reaching out for the young mothers? Are you forming discussion groups, reading circles, etc. Just small groups scattered about doing nothing more than reading the Parent-Teacher magazine will be found to be very beneficial. Habits are formed in the home and it is up to the parents that each child develops physically mentally, morally and spiritually and become a well balanced child." In addition to speakers on a P.-T. A. program Mrs. Buhlig suggested having a member report on subject matter of that same subject out of the Parent-Teacher magazine. In educating parents they must realize that the with their program. Interesting speakers bring special messages at each meeting. Mrs. Williams stated that Miss Dorothea Gilbert would be the guest speaker at the September meeting.

Mrs. F. A. Patterson, president of Central Grammar P.-T. A. stated that the subject of their year's program was "Guiding the Citizenship of Tomorrow." A study will be made of juvenile delinquency.

Mrs. C. V. Fleming, president of Lida Benton P.-T. A. stated that their unit is planning to meet the goal requirements during the coming year. Their program will embrace the needs of school—child welfare and health and summer round up will be stressed. Safety and recreation and juvenile protection will be studied. A program on international relations will also be planned. Their motto or slogan for the year is "Know thy child, teacher and school."

Mrs. G. C. McAuliffe of Millsaps P.-T. A. stated that they had been busy during the summer months with health and welfare work. Their program for the year will stress juvenile protection, child welfare and Junior Red Cross work. They plan to participate in the activities in the community. A Halloween party, as customary each fall will be planned.

Mrs. Carey Phillips of Mitchell P.-T. A. stated that they plan a better post-war community. "Health and Welfare" will be stressed.

Mrs. Alymer Montgomery, president of Neville High School P.-T. A. announced continuance of last year's program of "Vocational Guidance."

The first meeting will be for seniors and their parents, advising them what they can attain in awards. The second meeting will consist of aptitude tests. The third meeting will be a "Vocational School." The fourth meeting will be a special Founders' day program and the fifth and final program will be based on the relation between the business man and vocational guidance.

Mr. Claude Kincaid of Ransom P.-T. A. received a vote of applause as the first man to become president of a local P.-T. A. He stated that their work will be a continuance of the past year. During the summer they sponsored a recreation program at the school which was highly successful. They plan to obtain more playground equipment. Plans for the cafeteria are going forward.

Mrs. W. A. Cotton, of Sherouse P.-T. A. stated their program for the year will be "Guiding the Citizen of Tomorrow." The first meeting will be in the school rooms so that parents may know their child's teacher. They plan to beautify the school ground and purchase more playground equipment.

Mrs. Vincent Marsala, president of St. Matthew's P.-T. A. stated that funds would be raised to obtain funds to improve the cafeteria and get playground equipment. Welfare will be stressed as usual.

Miss Myrtle Rodgers, principal of Georgia Tucker School, thanked those members for their assistance during the summer with the OPA. MISS NITA M'GUIRE

Miss McGuire, the recent house guest of Miss Pauline Breard, was the recipient of considerable social attention during her visit in the city. Miss McGuire and Miss Breard are classmates at Randolph Macon College, and returned to Lynchburg together last week to resume their studies.

Miss Ward Weds Lt. Walter Kull

Claiming interest among the nuptials of late summer was the marriage of Miss Orion Elizabeth Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller of Marion, La., and Lt. Marshall F. Kull, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kull of Lyndhurst, N. J.

The ceremony took place at the Army Air Field Chapel, Waco Texas, with Chaplain Dahlgren E. Casey, officiating.

Nuptial music was played by the chapel organist, who also accompanied the soloist, Pvt. Earl Shubert, who sang "Because" by D'Hardelot; "I Love Myself" by Wagner's "Lohengrin," "You Truly," and "Ave Maria." The organ and Mendelessohn's "Wedding March" from "Mid-Summer Night's Dream" marked the beginning and ending of the impressive ceremony.

The bride wore a beautiful wedding gown of white mousseline de soie over white taffeta. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and bracelet length sleeves. The skirt was long and full and ended in a train.

The fingertip veil of illusion was held by a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a bridal bouquet of white gladioli centered with orchids.

The bride's attendants included Miss Marjorie Bardwell of Pineville, maid of honor; and Miss Merline Roberts of Alexandria and Mrs. J. F. Norris of San Francisco, Calif., bridesmaids. They wore identical formal of delicate blue satin trimmed with matching net and headresses of blue net with hip length veils of the same material. Miss Bandwell carried white gladioli. Miss Roberts and Mrs. Norris, peached gladioli.

Lt. Raymond Knaack of Woodstock, Ill., served the bridegroom as best man and groomsmen were Lt. William R. James and Lt. William R. Jones and Lt. Larry R. Ott.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the officers club where the bride and groom were charmingly reflected in every detail. The lace covered table was centered with the tiered wedding cake, a white confection surmounted by miniature bride and groom figurines. At one end was the crystal punch bowl and at the other a large crystal container of assorted confections.

Lt. and Mrs. Kull are making their home at 2121 Morrow street, Waco, Texas.

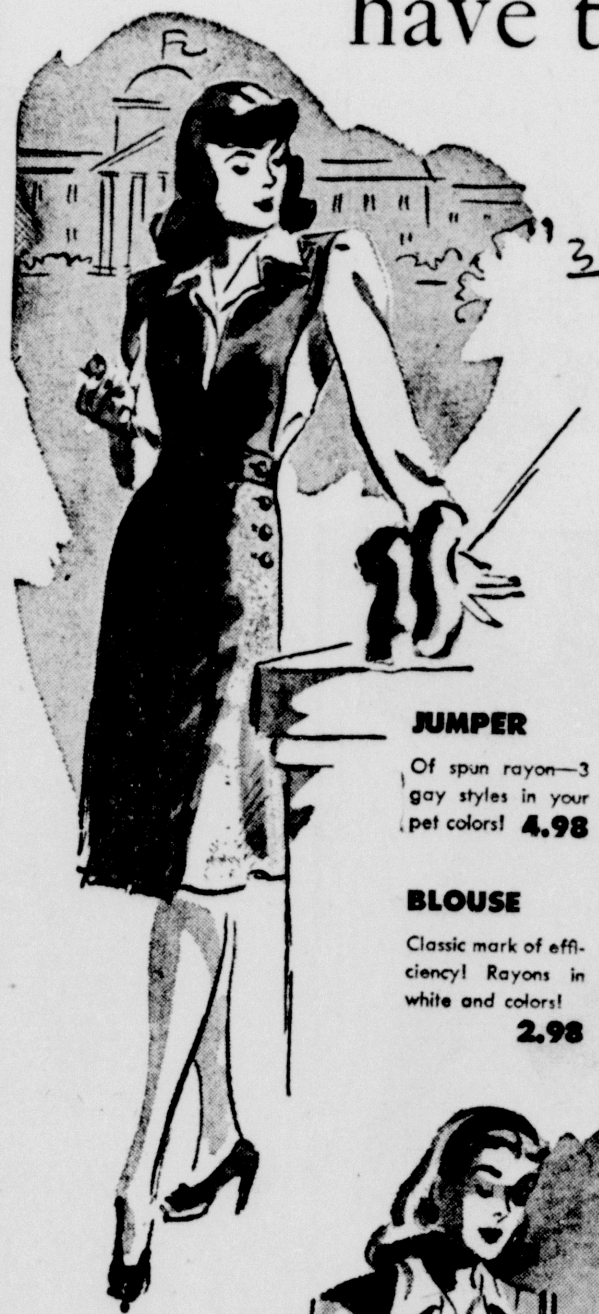

Magdalen E. Woodard, with SPARS, is visiting her mother, Mrs. W. G. Woodard, 1001 Cypress street, West Monroe. SPAR Woodard, a graduate of Chatham High School, was formerly employed at the Monroe Steam Laundry. She took training at Hunter College, New York, and was first assigned to Miami. She is now stationed at Key West, Fla.

Interest Centered In Nuptial Event

Miss Margaret Lane Mashaw Is Bride Of Cadet
Joseph Frost Biddle Jr.

A wedding of more than passing interest took place at North Chapel, Selman Field, September 2, when Miss Margaret Lane Mashaw, daughter of Mrs. Ada Mashaw, became the bride of Cadet Joseph Frost Biddle Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Biddle of Birmingham, Ala.

Chaplain C. C. Dollar performed the ceremony in the presence of a large concourse of friends and relatives at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Beautiful flowers banked the altar where myriad candles gleamed.

A program of pre-nuptial music was rendered by the organist while the guests were being seated.

Miss Kay Kugler, maid of honor wore a floor length model of azure blue lace with long pink suede gloves. A Juliet cap with shoulder length blue veil was worn. She carried an arm bouquet of pink and blue asters. The bridegroom was attended by his father.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. F. E. Hundley of Mansfield, La., wore the traditional white satin wedding gown with tight fitting bodice, full skirt and long train. The bodice was fashioned with a deep transparent yoke outlined with embroidery of seed pearls. Her hip-length veil of illusion was caught to a Juliet cap of pearls with clusters of orange blossoms at either side. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of white roses, white carnations and tube roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother who extended courtesies in a navy blue sheer model with rose colored accessories and a corsage of roses. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother who wore a pale pink, light-weight wool model embroidered in white and a corsage of white roses.

The bride's table in the dining room was radiant with candlelight and centrally adorned with a beautiful, three-tiered wedding cake surmounted with figurines of a bride and bridegroom. Crystal receptacles at the four corners held pale pink roses and at either end of the table were placed handsome silver candelabra supporting white tapers. Champagne was served with individual wedding cakes.

Misses Betty Lou Seamon, Marjorie Stafford, Peggy Richard and Mary Louise Walle, assisted in serving.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Biddle, Mrs. Harry E. Chambers, Mrs. G. S. Williamson of Birmingham, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hundley of Mansfield, La.; Mrs. C. L. Moore Sr., Mrs. C. L. Moore Jr., of Winnsboro, La.; Miss Peggy Richard and Miss Mary Louise Walle of Baton Rouge, La.; Miss Charlotte Foster of Toluca, Miss.

Mrs. Biddle graduated from Ouachita Parish High School and attended Northeast Junior College. For the past two years she has been associated with the state department of finance at Baton Rouge. She is a member of Beta Sigma Phi, national business sorority.

Cadet Biddle attended Auburn Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, Ala., where he was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon, social fraternity. He is now stationed at Selman Field, Cadet and

Impressive Ceremony Performed By Rev. Hastings
At First Baptist Church

The interest of a wide circle of friends is centered in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Maxine Naron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Naron of Shreveport, La., and Lt. Marion C. Plummer, September 4. The wedding took place at the Baptist parsonage with the Rev. L. T. Hastings, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives. Beautiful fall flowers formed a colorful background for the ceremony.

Mrs. George Mitchell Fazakerly, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a light wool ensemble of camellia pink with small black hat and corsage of Columbia roses. Lt. Arthur Sogge served as best man.

The bride wore a beautiful advanced fall model of aquamarine light weight wool with brown accessories and a corsage of orchids.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held in the mirror room of the Frances hotel. The bride's table, serviced in silver and candlelit, was centrally adorned with beautifully embossed wedding cake. Toasts to the bride and bridegroom were drunk in champagne before the serving of a buffet supper.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Naron, Shreveport, La.; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Naron, Rayville, La.; Maj. Hugh Miller, San Antonio, Texas.

Those present at the reception were Lt. and Mrs. George M. Fazakerly, Lt. and Mrs. Buckley, Lt. and Mrs. Edward F. Pittman, Lt. and Mrs. Maurice Edlund, Lt. and Mrs. Skaugie, Lt. and Mrs. Synder, Lt. and Mrs. Peterman, Mr. and Mrs. Branch Isobel, Lt. and Mrs. Tom Moyer.

Mrs. Colvert Will Entertain A.A.U.W.

Members Of American Association Of University
Women Will Meet

Meeting for the first time this fall, members of the Monroe branch of the American Association of University Women and those eligible for enrollment will be guests at a membership tea Thursday evening, September 28, at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. C. C. Colvert. Serving as co-hostesses will be Miss Frances Kelso, Mrs. John Cecil Currie, Mrs. A. L. Tatum and Mrs. W. R. Hammond.

The evening's program includes a brief discussion of the objectives and policies of the A. A. U. W. given by Mrs. Colvert, who is state president of the association. Miss Mary Clay, president of the local chapter, will introduce officers and chairmen of committees who will serve during the coming year. Added features in the form of musical selections will give variety to the program. Miss Irma Ahola, voice instructor at the college here, will give vocal numbers, and Mr. William Grant, head of the music department of the college, will play some piano selections.

In extending an invitation to non-members to attend, Miss Clay suggests that if there is a question of membership eligibility, persons may call her at phone 4350-M or Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl at 1543-M after 5 o'clock in the afternoon. She adds that women having degrees from Louisiana State University or Tulane University are eligible to join the Monroe branch. Graduates of out-of-state colleges or universities may receive information from the persons named above as to whether their schools are on the approved list or not.

Officers who will serve with Miss Clay this year include: Mrs. Mary Vaughn Peavy, vice-president; Mrs. A. L. Tatum, secretary; Miss Marjorie Oliver, treasurer.

Mrs. Y. L. Pinkston has been appointed program coordinator. Chairman of committees include: Mrs. Harry Lemert, membership; Dr. Julia Hunter, fellowship; Mrs. John Cecil Currie, creative arts; Mrs. Sara Hollingsworth, education; Miss Edna Irie Mewhinney, social studies; Mrs. Howard King, legislative; Mrs. D. H. Martin, economic and legal status; Mrs. J. W. d'Arman, recent graduates; Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl, publicity and bulletin editor; Miss Mary Hester, branch history; Miss Juanita Porter, transportation; Mrs. Enoch Todd, telephone; Miss Kate Perkins, international relations.

Monroe representatives in the state division of the A. A. U. W. comprise Mrs. Colvert and Mrs. W. R. Hammond, secretary.

Timely Advice For Club Women

President Of Louisiana Federated Clubs Sends Message Of Importance

In the new yearbook for the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs, compiled by Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, president of this organization, will be found the "President's Message." This article is very timely and contains a wealth of information for club women. It follows:

"The shock of the impact of war has been felt deeply in every country where we have Federated Clubs. To repair this shock and to build certainty against the recurrence of war is our opportunity and our responsibility. Community life and growth must go on.

"The future of our democracy, as we know it, depends not only on the individual active interest of every person in the affairs of government, but also upon the active individual interest of everyone in community affairs.

"Therefore, we have chosen as our theme for this year 'Unity in Thought and Action For a Better World Tomorrow.' Clubwomen now have nine departments through which we must work in addition to our 14 sub-committees of war service. Unfortunately, there is a tendency for some of us to ignore these committees and give their valuable service to emergency groups which claim the credit. They forget entirely the power of our great organization and that, because they were trained to lead, to work in harmony and to inspire confidence, everyone wanted them.

"Mrs. Dickinson, our national president, has chosen for her theme 'The American Home.' This is very timely. Our federation life can be compared to our family life. Most of us are homemakers. We must keep the home fires burning. But our federation family life must be kept alive and active and we must keep intact our great organization. It is endangered as never before. Our club program must now be adapted to the winning of the war and the peace afterward. To hear a woman say that clubs should be disbanded for the duration is to know that there is at least one woman who is too near-sighted to see the strength and power of organized womanhood. You remember Queen Elizabeth said, 'There is strength in unity and with unity we can go forward into victory unafraid.' We will need our unity as we work for readjustment in this war-torn world.

"Since taking over the office as president in November, 1943, I have, to the best of my ability, attended to the duties of the office. A peep into the check book will show that stamps have been purchased for more than a thousand pieces of mail. This means hours of work. I have also attended every meeting possible to represent you in carrying on the work of war service with other organizations.

"The General Federation meeting in St. Louis was attended by nine dele-

Wow! this reminds me... LIVING COSTS are UP!

Yes, but you can't blame your Gas Bill. IT'S DOWN!

Everyone knows that it costs more to live today than before the war. Since the beginning of the war, many everyday items have increased in cost, while only a few have remained the same. United Gas Service is one household necessity that has not increased in price.

gates from Louisiana. There was a splendid representation. I had the privilege of attending the board meeting for the first time. As I sat and listened to the reports of the chairman I marveled at the power and extent of the activities of our federation and throughout them all there mingled the happy feeling that the Louisiana Federation was a part of that great whole.

"I visited all district meetings. They were unusually well attended for war time, and rationing. Several new district presidents were elected and I found as a rule the women are meeting the various problems with understanding.

"Our problems for this term are the problems of last term. First of all—to increase membership. We have lost many clubs, with very few clubs added. Second—To get conscientious women to steer our committees, have faith in themselves and to realize that through them the work may be successfully accomplished.

"The national board meeting which will be held in New York, October 14-16, should be a most inspiring and helpful meeting. At this time Mrs. Dickinson and her chairman will present plans for the next three years. Since we are to have Mrs. Dickinson in Louisiana on November 2-3 for our convention, I am sure that she will bring to you these plans in her own charming manner. By all means attend your state convention if possible. Time, November 2-3. Place, Hotel Heidelberg, Baton Rouge.

"For your loyalty and support I am truly grateful. It is your federation—make it the best federation you possibly can. Remember, we must have unity of thought and action."

Miss Keller Will Wed Lt. Phillips

Engagement Of Miss Mildred Keller To Lt. J. R. Phillips Announced Today

Claiming the sincere interest of friends in this city and elsewhere in the state is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Keller of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mildred, to Lt. James Roark Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Phillips of Marion, La.

The wedding will be a prominent social event of early October and will be attended with considerable ceremony. Life long girlhood friends of the bride-to-be will serve as bridal attendants.

Miss Keller, popular member of the younger set, is a graduate of the Louisiana State University with a B.S. degree. She is a member of Kappa Delta, national sorority and Delta Beta Sigma.

Lieutenant Phillips is a graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston, La., and is a member of Phi Kappa Alpha fraternity. He is now stationed at the naval air base in New Orleans.

Friends Attend Supper Party

A barbecue supper was served by members of the Brotherhood of Central Baptist Church to members of their families and friends in the recreation room of the church with Messrs Guy Smart, Martin Travis and B. H. Wade, hosts of the evening.

The guests were seated at small tables adorned with bowls of autumn flowers for the serving of the delicious supper.

Later in the evening an address was delivered by H. K. Litton on the subject of "Christian Living."

An hour of music was enjoyed with the Rev. and Mrs. Roger Johnson leading the singing.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Guy Smart, Rev. and Mrs. Roger Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Litton, Mr. F. E. Welch, Mr. Ivy Smith, Mrs. Robert Written, Mrs. C. E. Smith, Mary Nell Travis, Sue Wade.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Travis, Mr. and Mrs. Canning, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Barton, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Farr, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. R. Goza, Mr. and Mrs. George Delay, Ida Lee Hamilton, F. Johnson, Raymond Smart, Lee Roy Travis, John Powell.

Mrs. J. B. Swanson Jr., has accepted a position as teacher of grades three and four in Sherrouse School. Her husband, Lieutenant Swanson, has been sent overseas. Mrs. Swanson will make her home for the present with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. B. M. McKoin.

AND NOW ALONG COMES L. B. MCARTHY JR., PROPRIETOR OF THE CITY BAKERY, with a plan to keep fruit cakes from salt air injury when sent overseas to men and women in the service. A specially prepared paper—moisture-proof—protects the cake. In addition the cake will be beautifully wrapped as a Christmas gift. Let me tell you about the cakes . . . they are really luscious . . . chuck-full of nuts and fruit and gaily decorated. They grow more delicious as time passes . . . the fruits, you know, keeps them moist. Send in your order tomorrow for one to be sent overseas ready for shipping. And by the way you will find these nourishing after-school snacks for hungry little tummies.

Shopping the Town with Camille

GIFTS OF INTRINSIC VALUE ARE THE CORNERSTONES upon which homes are built. Gifts of such value are found at the QUAIN HOUSE, West Monroe. Mrs. H. C. MIZE, the owner can tell you the proud history of every article. Chandeliers for instance . . . that once graced the drawing room of a Colonial Dame. There is an early American blue glass one and another in cranberry glass . . . they have a divine radiance. You will find a rosewood table that fairly reeks of past grandeur . . . you will find a carved mahogany chest with a thrilling history . . . there is a walnut chest you will find unique pieces of overlay glass . . . satin glass, quaint pieces of bisque. I simply can't tell you in this small space about these treasures . . . you must find out for yourself.

AS COLORFUL AS A MEXICAN SERAPE . . . AS STRIKING AS A PEOPLES' CHOCOTE is the MEXI-CRAFT SHOP on Du Siard street. The spell of Old Mexico will be upon you when you walk into this shop where beauty is borrowed from south of the border. The vivid colors leap out at you from the most distinctive little crash linen jackets you ever saw. They are perfect for these cool days and nights. . . . Colorful embroidery is found on little girls' pinfaires and dresses. The lunch-eon sets are in all shades of linen with matching napkins . . . large and small sizes. The shelves at the MEXI-CRAFT SHOP are fairly weighted down with treasures you will want to own.

AS USUAL IN TIMES OF WAR MONEY IS SPENT ON THINGS THAT HELP keep up the morale . . . a romantic little hat from ALICE HENRY'S comes first where women are concerned. ALICE HENRY'S HAT SHOP is a regular beehive of activity these days . . . crowds of eager women find there the perfect little hat to fit their mood . . . they're imaginative and exciting. Whether you go "high hat" or select a wide brim you get what you want at ALICE HENRY'S. They are designed to fit the head and are ultrafeminine, often coquettish and certainly most flattering. There is definitely more glamour in the hats at ALICE HENRY'S than elsewhere. And the prices . . . well you would never believe me. They are priced just right.

A NEW, WONDERFUL WAY TO BE LOVELY IS TO VISIT MARIE WAMSLEY'S BEAUTY SALON. If you want every inch of your face and neck to have that creamy-sheen-of-a-pearl look let MARIE WAMSLEY give you weekly facials. For her new beauty excitement let her or her staff of experienced assistants shape a new coiffure for you and give you one of those glamorous new permanents. The world is in a mad rush and to keep abreast of the times beauticians must be for ever on the alert . . . they must have something new to offer their clientele . . . that is why MARIE WAMSLEY is constantly in touch with the nation's expert beauticians. She has just returned from Atlanta with a bag of new tricks . . . little things to make you more beautiful . . . to give you the kind of glamour every woman is seeking.

WORTHY OF GRACING THE HAND OF THE LOVELIEST LADY IN THE LAND . . . truly masterpieces of the lapidary art are the gorgeous diamonds at the R AND A JEWELRY SHOP. Every diamond is superb in cut, smartly designed and thrilling in setting. There's no way to measure the deep and satisfying pleasure you will have through the years from one of these diamond rings or bracelets from Monroe's oldest and most reliable jewelers. Before you purchase your diamond at the R AND A the courteous salesman will tell you that size alone does not determine diamond value . . . color, clarity and brilliancy must be considered. Take my advice and never trust anyone but an expert . . . one who is long experienced in the matter of diamonds, before you purchase a gift that is not for today, not for tomorrow but for a lifetime.

CLARICE AND GOLDAH ROAN are certainly doing their bit to "Keep America Dancing." They have been spending their vacation (by request) entertaining the men in the armed forces at Selman Field and other nearby camps and will continue to do so even though they have re-opened their studio for the fall and winter term in the K of P hall. Classes will start tomorrow and as customary there will be a rush . . . mothers will place their youngsters in class and grown ups will start to brush up on their dancing. Ball room dancing is one of the specialties at this studio . . . in fact all forms of dancing is taught with great stress on the ballet. Both instructors excel in this particular type of dancing. Drop in at the ROAN STUDIO some day and see how expert these instructors are.

PARDON THESE EARLY REMARKS ABOUT SANTA CLAUS but reminder comes from FRED LEVIT'S SHOP to start now to have a gift of enduring quality and dignity put aside for someone you love for Christmas. If you heed this warning your Yuletide will be free from gift worry. The shelves at FRED LEVIT'S are now well stocked with gifts for the whole family—books, toys, dolls, china, glassware, leather goods, world war maps and globes. You have no idea unless you visit this shop how many, inexpensive, distinctive gifts are on display. The ideal gift for the man of seas can be found there—the birthday gift for a friend—the "you" card to express your sentiments—the book that is just the press.

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE WOMEN TODAY FACE a world with the calm certainty that our most precious values remain unchanged. Love, child and home . . . around these "cores" our lives will always be built. SHERWIN-WILLIAMS, this thought in mind shows marvelous collection of treasures that will always be an integral of the home, such as mirrors you will find beautifully framed mirrors and others without frames . . . you will find oval ones oblong ones, round ones square ones. One of these mirrors whether or not you have a man will give your living room a feeling of spaciousness and lux. Whenever you live one of the mirrors will let—perhaps it will love the way they reflect and color. Mirrors from SHERWIN-WILLIAMS are noted for their brilliance and perfect relations.

FOR YOUR MAGICAL MENT YOU WANT TO BE SURE . . . very sure that your moment will be made even more enchanting by the thrilling beauty of a gown from THE ST. SHOP. Gowns of incomparable beauty are arriving daily at exclusive shop where style distinction go hand in hand. This is a dress especially for you—happily it is a sleek black model with deep transparent edged with let—perhaps it is a peacock-blue wool model, fully tailored. There is another you will love—it is of black with glistening black satin trim down one side—another is trimmed in sequins. These gowns are for the magical moments there are others just as beautiful for the more practical side. They are in all sizes, all feminine and undeniably flatter.

EXPERIENCE THAT INW GLOW OF SATISFACTION visiting MOORE'S TAILOR SHOP and be fitted for one of those distinctive tailors the mine world is raving about. materials for you to choose are of gabardine, light wool, ert, tweed . . . the colors glorious ones, plucked from a bow—violet, purple, all shades blue, and brown, light and grey. Hurry down to MOORE'S tomorrow for a fitting. With these tailors, you will be pored to meet the cool days with the satisfaction of knowing you are the best dressed woman. A tailored suit isn't a luxury . . . it is a necessity . . . to do at a minute's notice place you in the class reserve the best dressed women.

WOMEN ARE TRYING PRESERVE THEIR FEMININE as never before and the best according to one who knows, wear flowers. No, these women not carefree—they are brave way. They place these colorful tile nosegays from THE FLOWER SHOPPE under their chins face the world with a smile. M. HERSCH (one who really knows) tells me that often a girl herself to a corsage while her friend is away . . . it's a good for her morale. Other young women receive corsages weekly their "boy friend" who is a seas . . . All work at FLOWER SHOPPE isn't done for bride's bouquets, for lunch and dinner tables, for the room and for anniversaries. demands placed upon THE FLOWER SHOPPE increase it. It seems that flowers must come from THE FLOWER SHOPPE.

ALL FELT WILL BE KEPT TIME TO MUSIC THIS WIN IF ARMANDINE RENAUD has way. She has just returned New York where she learned a snappy new steps and did a post-graduate work in ballet. Renaud reopens her studio tomorrow and from now on children and grown-ups as well, will flocking there for instruction. baby class is overflowing bounds this season . . . cute little girls who are learning to be graceful and sturdy boys who want to dance. them. Poise and grace are things Miss Renaud stresses. it is the natural inheritance every man and woman but must be cultivated in childhood. Miss Renaud learned many valuable things while attending a national convention in New York of the Dancing Masters of America of which she is a member.

WARS ALWAYS BRING ABOUT CHANGES BUT THE HAS been no change in the basis of hospitality prevailing at Monroe's popular rendezvous, THE CASCADE, where good cheer rates through the years. The tang of Autumn is now in the bringing a renewed interest in and a certain zest that calls gay companionship. To bridge gap between daylight and darkness, a time when there really nothing to do, HARRY STOUT has originated a six o'clock cocktail hour. At this time THE CASCADE is simply teeming with . . . gaiety is at its height, may begin for some at 4:30 patrons of the THE CASCADE begins at 6 o'clock.

TWIN MAIN EVENT
SLATED AT ARENA

Olsen Meets Carone And Parker Tackles Harrel In

Wrestling Show

Promoter Gus Kallio last night announced the billing of a double main event featuring Al "Tuffy" Olsen, Fred Carone, Allen Parker, and Henry Harrel for Thursday night's wrestling show here.

Although the matches have equal billing the interest of the fans will probably be centered on the Carone-Olsen scramble that pits two veterans of about equal strength and experi-

Carone, less known of the two locally, has shown here for Kallio only twice and showed here the past week for the first time in many months. The Postonian is quite a villain, out the Tattooed Man, while a clever wrestler and showman, has never won the favor of the customers here. But the fans can't be expected to pledge match until they see how they work after the meeting, Thursday.

Old Allen Parker, the master showman, will have another opportunity to teach young Henry Harrel a few more of the tricks that have made the former sailor one of the best light heavyweight grapplers touring this section of the country at the present time.

Harrel, short on experience but ambitious, strong and inclined to villainy, has given fairly good accounts of himself in former matches with Parker, but he usually has to call upon his bag of tricks to gain any advantage over the Nashville bruiser.

Both matches will have time limits of an hour and 15 minutes, two falls to win.

The mother of Anthony Trollope, distinguished 19th century English novelist, wrote some 50 novels of her own.

HOLLAND BACK FROM MEMPHIS

More Than 500 C. Of C. Officials From Eight States At Meeting

George D. Holland, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has returned from Memphis where he attended a Chamber of Commerce officials meeting. There were more than 500 officials from eight Southern states at the meeting. The meeting was held on September 14 and a meeting of the board of directors was held September 15.

Mr. Holland stated that the cooperative structure and the last stronghold of private free enterprise are seriously threatened by the proposed organization in the eight Southern states by the Farm Security Administration of the Southern Cooperative Council, Inc. Going far beyond the scope of legitimate farm cooperatives, which engage in cooperative marketing by farmer organizations. This proposed Southern Cooperative Council will, with government funds, engage in the manufacture, the purchase, and the sale of all commodities and engage in these operations without paying any taxes and in competition with private free enterprises, which pay 40 per cent of our federal and state government taxes.

The proposed council will be organized into groups employing medical, hospital, and dental services on a purely socialistic basis.

If formed the council will constitute the last step to state socialism and will destroy private free enterprise and the American way of business as we know today.

A special committee to study this problem and attempt to cope with it was authorized at the board of directors meeting.

SAMUEL W. HANDY 90 YEARS OF AGE

Samuel W. Handy, well known here for many years, is today celebrating his 90th birthday. He being one of the oldest residents of Monroe.

He was born in Morehouse parish and spent his early life there and with vivid memory recalls many of the stirring events of that parish, seventy-eight and even more years ago.

Several years ago he wrote a pamphlet on Morehouse parish in which he told of customs and people of that section of the state a few years after the War Between the States.

Although injured when a young man and left in a crippled condition, he never allowed himself to be conquered by disability and with an optimistic nature he continued to go through life successfully. While financially not required to continue efforts at livelihood, up to a year ago he was a familiar figure in downtown Monroe as he sold razor blades to his wide circle of friends, the businessmen of Monroe.

Since last Christmas he has been unable to continue his daily visits to DeSiard street and he has been missed by many.

He makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. E. C. Fudicker, 405 Park avenue. He will have no special birthday celebration today because of the fact that he is not now in the best of health.

The army has developed rainwear and windproof clothing from fabrics coated with a plastic, polyvinyl chloride.

Mr. Pendola leaves his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Joe B. Cascio, Columbia; and two granddaughters, Rose Mary Cascio and Cecilia Cascio.

EGG COOLER IS CALLED SAVING

Mrs. McQuiller Tells How To Use Material On Hand For This Use

A simple egg cooler that will save a great deal of loss during hot spells, which we experience each summer, and will experience for some weeks, can be made by any poultry grower without need of expensive or scarce materials, according to Mrs. Jewel L. McQuiller home demonstration agent of Outchita parish.

The cooler is made, Mrs. McQuiller said, simply by sinking an 18-inch wide concrete tile or well curbing into the ground vertically in a shady spot. An old barrel or box also will do, as will dirt walls where the soil will hold. A top is made of two layers of one-inch material with a layer of building paper between. The cooler should be located where water will not stand, although some moisture is desirable to retard evaporation. It is advisable to remove the lid at night to permit cooling, at which time the cooler should be covered with a wire lid to keep out dogs and other animals. The lid should be replaced by 6 a. m. and should be left in place throughout the day excepting when eggs are being placed in the cooler.

The home demonstration agent that experiments during the past summer have shown that while this cooler is naturally not nearly so effective as a refrigerator at about 50 degrees, it will keep eggs longer and better than room temperature. The temperature in such a cooler will range from 10 degrees to 15 degrees lower than the maximum outside.

YOUNG NEGRO IS STABBED TO DEATH

Sheriff Milton Coverdale reported Saturday morning that M. C. Mosely, 19-year-old Negro, of Union parish was stabbed to death Friday night by Oscar Williams, 27-year-old Negro. The Negroes had an argument which led to a fight during which Williams stabbed Mosely with a long-bladed knife, the sheriff said. Members of the sheriff's department attempted to find Williams, who had left Sterlington, where the fight and stabbing occurred. Williams voluntarily surrendered himself to the sheriff Saturday morning. Dr. J. T. French, Outchita parish coroner, state Saturday morning that Mosely had been stabbed three times and had died while en route from Sterlington to Monroe. Dr. French said that death had been caused by a stab wound in the heart.

REVEILLE AWARD OF $100 PLANNED

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Prof. Marvin G. Osborn, director of the Louisiana State University school of journalism, announced today that a cash award of $100 annually will be given for the best re- portorial work done on the Reveille, L. S. U. student newspaper, over a period of a school year.

Osborn said the award is made possible by Dr. Lester J. Williams, local physicians, who was editor of the paper 45 years ago while a senior at L. S. U.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPEN TOMORROW

Registration Similar To That Of Last Fall Is Anticipated

Public schools of Monroe will re-open Monday for the fall term. North- east Junior College, the Catholic schools of Monroe and West Monroe and the Louisiana Training Institute reopened a week earlier, on September 11.

Tomorrow all the schools of the city of Monroe and the parish schools will resume sessions.

Indications are that there will be an enrollment about equal to that of a year ago.

First steps will be taken this fall toward the institution of a twelfth grade which is to be uniform throughout the state, but which will not be accomplished immediately.

George W. Welch, as superintendent of Ouachita parish schools, will begin his first full term in that capacity having succeeded T. O. Brown. January 1st last, E. L. Neville, superintendent of the city schools. Lists of teachers for both local terms were published in the News-Morning World the past week.

There are 44,000,000 telephones in the world.

the Art of Living...

THRIVES IN BEAUTIFUL SURROUNDINGS!

The pleasant sense of well-being distilled by a gracious environment is an inspiration to everyone, whatever their age or temperament. A lovely home stimulates a zest for living, an appreciation of beauty, that is reflected in the character of its inhabitants, and furnishings of charm and comfort can lend wings to the pursuit of happiness.

How Your Dollars Today Buy MORE Bofors Guns...and Faster!

For the gun decks of our Navy and Merchant Marine... for our Armies in the field, Bofors 40-mm. Anti-Aircraft Guns are being built in quantities and at lower cost made possible only through "Engineered Production."

Before the war, rapid-firing guns of this type were hand-built... each part laboriously fitted to others. When the need arose, Chrysler Corporation was given the task of producing them by thousands.

First American manufacturers to build Bofors guns, we changed the design on some parts, changed material on others and finished all with such accuracy that assembly time was reduced from 450 hours of hand fitting to 10 hours of volume production assembly.

Today, these are better weapons than were originally built... better because "Engineered Production" has accomplished complete interchangeability of parts. This permits quick replacement when necessary right in the field.

WARTIME EARNINGS LESS THAN IN PEACETIME

DURING 5 PRE-WAR YEARS before Pearl Harbor our earnings averaged 5 1/2 cents per dollar received for all products.

DURING 1942-1943—two complete years of war production—our earnings averaged only 2 3/5 cents per dollar received.

56.8% PAID OUT TO OTHER COMPANIES

More than half of all the money we have received on war production contracts—56.8%—we have passed along to more than 12,000 other companies, most of them small, for materials and services.

THE MERITS of "Engineered Production," as pioneered and practiced by Chrysler Corporation in its peacetime manufacture of fine cars and trucks, were never more clearly proved than through the delivery of many thousands of Bofors Anti-Aircraft Guns... at substantial money savings to taxpayers, and at great savings in time to our Armed Forces.
